An Enemy's Funeral Lorraine Ducksworth-Rogers,2010-02-16 The Sidney family is not shocked to hear the news about JJ JJ James Earl Sidney Jr is Satan on Earth in the flesh For years he has roamed the streets of New Orleans creating enemies His bad reputation is his power and prestige He finally meets his match when he crosses the wrong friend Meanwhile after years of humiliating others he decides that he has a change of heart But is he too late JJ soon finds God and through Him saves many lives as he realizes that no man is an island of his own Heroes All! The Quixotics John Wayne Falbey,2012-10-14 The Quixotics is a tale of coming of age in the Baby Boomer generation The time is 1970 and three young men have returned from military service in Vietnam Like other returning warriors of that era they have become disenchanted with a country whose citizens spit on and curse returning warriors Restless and troubled by what they see as the loss of individuality in an increasingly one size fits all society they decide to escape it and create an environment more to their liking They pool what little cash they have and acquire a boat that is barely seaworthy The plan is to sail leisurely through the Caribbean living life on their own terms one idyllic day at a time determined to find adventure and right any wrongs they find along the way Combative with society and each other they set off in the small cramped boat with no sailing or navigational skills To earn some badly needed cash they grudgingly agree to deliver a cargo of weapons to anti Castro insurgents in Cuba The start is rough and the voyage rougher but all hell breaks loose once they reach the island Captured by Castro forces they are imprisoned in an old Spanish dungeon Later they escape and join up with the rebels in the Sierra Maestra Mountains Here their talents for guerrilla warfare honed in the jungles of Vietnam assert themselves Before this tale of adventure romance and self discovery is over each man will come to realize as Cervantes said Our greatest foes and whom we must chiefly combat are within The New Breed Andrew Geer,2017-07-31 As a Marine combat veteran and a successful writer of fiction and non fiction Andrew Geer was ideally suited to tell this story of the U S Marines in Korea In preparing this book which was first published in 1952 Geer had access to the complete file of Marine combat reports and was able to gather material at first hand as an active Marine field officer during the dreadful winter spring and summer of 1950 51 in Korea He interviewed 697 Marines individually in preparing this history Military history generally deals with campaigns with the factors affecting the situation with the decisions of higher commanders and with an analysis of the results accomplished The human reactions of the thousands of lesser actors are as a rule painted with a broad brush only The details are usually left to the historical novel or quasi historical novel Yet the actual story is far more convincing than any fictional account What Andrew Geer has done in The New Breed is to picture vividly the real life not fictional Marine as he fought the bitter battles of the Naktong struggled with the mud flats and sea walls of Inchon crushed the enemy barricades in Seoul and cut his way through a Chinese army from the Chosin Reservoir to the sea In telling this detailed story however Major Geer has not neglected the broad picture The New Breed is a definite contribution to the history of the Korean War
