Art of the Eighties and Seventies Michael Stevenson, Johannes Cladders, Hans Hollein, 2006 Stevenson's book deals with the early history planning and construction of the Museum Abteiberg and in particular the relationship this public institution formed with Count Panza and his collection Count Panza had at the time arguably one of the most significant collections of minimal and conceptual art in private hands in Europe Panza's collection was to be on long term loan to the museum The purpose of my exhibition project was therefore to trace the history of this public private partnership its prospects and its eventual demise Stevenson's publication mimics books published by Rizzoli on the Panza collection in terms of scale typography and general design layouts A Catalogue of the Books and Manuscripts of Robert Louis
