Transformed Olli S. Miettinen, Johann Steurer, Albert Hofman, 2019-10-15 In this Information Age the practices of clinical medicine should no longer be based on what clinical doctors actively know Rather all of the importantly practice relevant knowledge should not only already exist but also be codified in cyberspace in directly practice guiding expert systems for the benefit of both doctors and patients everywhere Each of these systems discipline specific would prompted by a particular type of case presentation present the doctor a questionnaire specific to cases of the type at issue and document the doctor s answers to the questions If at issue would be a case of complaint about a particular type of sickness the system would translate the resulting diagnostic profile of the case into the corresponding probabilities of the illnesses to be considered Similarly if at issue would be an already diagnosed case of a particular illness the system would ask about and record the relevant elements in the prognostic profile of the case and then translate this profile into the probabilities of various outcomes to be considered probabilities specific to the choice of treatment and prospective time in addition to that profile And besides these systems would analogously address the causal origin etiogenesis of cases of particular types of illness While the requisite knowledge base for these systems notably for the probabilities in them has not been addressed by such patient oriented clinical research as has been conducted very extensively up to now this book delineates the nature of the suitably transformed research gnostic The critically transformative innovation in the research is the studies focus on Gnostic Probability Functions dia etio and prognostic in the framework of logistic regression models This book also presents a vision of how this critically transformative research would most expeditiously be provided for and also conducted among select sets of academic teaching hospitals Medical Record and Annals ,1927 Journal Association of American Medical Colleges,1929 Stain Technology ,1984
