Hesselgrave, 1994-05-02 Scripture and Strategy The Use of the Bible in Postmodern Church and Mission Scripture should occupy a central place in the future strategy of churches and their mission But what does that mean practically Amid the many voices in the church who should we listen to What wisdom can we glean from those who ve gone before us In Scripture and Strategy David Hesselgrave serves the church by bringing together ten renowned church leaders and missions visionaries They advise us not to give in to a simplistic understanding and use of Scripture Collectively the contributors emphasize a critical idea that often gets overlooked In short the Bible should not only inform our message it should shape our methods Scripture and Strategy brings diverse issues into conversation It explores topics like contextualization church planting and spiritual warfare in light of biblical interpretation postmodernism and biblical authority This book presses us to look ahead to the future of missions by looking back to God s revelation in the past The 52 Greatest Stories of the Bible Kenneth Boa, 2010-10 A Devotional Study In today s world the basic building blocks of a Christian world view are often missing in people s lives To help fill in this missing information Boa and Turner present a foundational clear synthesis of the most significant narratives of the Bible along with the implications and applications of these interrelated stories They present the big story in such a way that it will 1 Connect the dots for readers of the Bible demonstrating how each individual story is really one chapter in the larger story 2 Show how Jesus is the point to the story especially his death and resurrection and 3 Build a biblical world view by showing how the Bible answers the ultimate questions of life 2 The Reference Catalogue of Current Literature , 1906 Prison Religion Winnifred Fallers Sullivan, 2011-09-06 More than the citizens of most countries Americans are either religious or in jail or both But what does it mean when imprisonment and evangelization actually go hand in hand or at least appear to What do faith based prison programs mean for the constitutional separation of church and state particularly when prisoners who participate get special privileges In Prison Religion law and religion scholar Winnifred Fallers Sullivan takes up these and other important questions through a close examination of a 2005 lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of a faith based residential rehabilitation program in an Iowa state prison Americans United for the Separation of Church and State v Prison Fellowship Ministries a trial in which Sullivan served as an expert witness centered on the constitutionality of allowing religious organizations to operate programs in state run facilities Using the trial as a case study Sullivan argues that separation of church and state is no longer possible Religious authority has shifted from institutions to individuals making it difficult to define religion let alone disentangle it from the state Prison Religion casts new light on church state law the debate over government funded faith based programs and the predicament of prisoners who have precious little choice about what kind of rehabilitation they receive if they are offered any at all Christians on the Move: The Book of Acts Henrietta C.
