Stewards Of The Land A Survey Of Landscape Architecture And Design In America:

Stewards of the Land Barbara D. May, 1999 An introduction to floral arrangement and design using vases containers foam and other accessories with designs for every week of the year Legendary Locals of Lake Forest Susan L. Kelsey and Arthur H. Miller, 2015 Since the 1850s Lake Forest located 30 miles north of Chicago on Lake Michigan has been a distinctive suburb It has been a retreat from the diseases public accessibility rougher elements soot stockyard smells and general density of bustling city life For at least five generations it has been the retreat for Chicago s leading New England descended families such as the Farwells Swifts and Armours And for over 150 years Lake Forest has been the home for a community of educators merchants artisans designers and a wide variety of estate specialists the latter from pre Civil War escaped slaves and Scots and Irish immigrants to today s notable garden and interior artists Legendary Locals of Lake Forest draws on rare archival images from local and Chicago public and private sources Golden Gardens , 2009 Nature, Landscape, and Building for Sustainability William S. Saunders, 2008 The complexity and scale of the environmental problems confronting humanity today provoke a wide range of responses from indifference to anger to creativity Among a growing number of architects landscape architects and planners however these problems have inspired a new vision sustainability to guide their practices In Nature Landscape and Building for Sustainability a diverse group of contributors considers the concept of sustainability both philosophically and practically Some take a broad view of the divisions between nature and humanity exploring the incomprehensible scale of human intervention in the natural world the relationship between how we feel about nature and what we do about it and the commodification of the natural world Other essays focus on sustainable design practices sustainability s roots in the American conservation tradition its utility as a framework for future design practice and the necessity of moving beyond demonstration projects into the mainstream Together these essays suggest that the gap between the promise and reality of sustainable design although significant can be bridged through diligence and practice Contributors D Michelle Addington Yale U John Beardsley Harvard Graduate School of Design Albert Borgmann U of Montana Missoula Peter Buchanan Peter Del Tredici Harvard Graduate School of Design Robert France Harvard Graduate School of Design Susannah Hagan U of East London Kristina Hill U of Virginia Catherine Howett U of Georgia Niall Kirkwood Harvard Graduate School of Design Lucy R Lippard Bill McKibbin Michael Pollan Rossana Vaccarino Vaccarino Associates St Thomas William S Saunders is editor of Harvard Design Magazine and assistant dean for external relations at Harvard University s Graduate School of Design He is editor of five previous Harvard Design Magazine Readers published by the University of Minnesota Press Robert L Thayer Jr is emeritus professor of landscape architecture and founder of the landscape architecture program at the University of California Davis The Culture of Cultivation Raffaella Fabiani Giannetto, 2020-07-29 By seeking to rediscover the profession s agricultural roots this volume proposes a 21st century shift in thinking about landscape architecture that is no longer driven by binary oppositions such as urban and rural past and present aesthetics and ecology beautiful and productive but rather prioritizes a holistic and cross disciplinary framing The illustrated collection of essays written by academics researchers and experts in the field seeks to balance and redirect a current approach to landscape architecture that prioritizes a narrow definition of the regional in an effort to tackle questions of continuous urban growth and its impact on the environment It argues that an emphasis on conurbation which occurs at the expense of the rural often ignores the reality that certain cultivation and management practices taking place on land set aside for production can be as harmful to the environment as is unchecked urbanization contributing to loss of biodiversity soil erosion and climate change By contrast the book argues that by expanding the expertise of design professionals to include the productive food systems soil conservation and the preservation of cultural landscapes landscape architects would be better equipped to participate in the stewardship of our planet Written primarily for landscape practitioners and academics cultural and environmental historians and conservationists The Culture of Cultivation will appeal to anyone interested in a thorough rethinking of the role and agency of landscape architecture Landscape Architecture ,2006 Harvard Business School Bulletin ,2001 Vineyard ,2001 The State of the Arts at State Universities & Land-grant Colleges ,1979 Landscape Architecture News Digest ,1984
