Cormier, 2016-06-16 Malaria is one of the oldest recorded diseases in human history and its 10 000 year relationship to primates can teach us why it will be one of the most serious threats to humanity in the 21st century In this pathbreaking book Loretta Cormier integrates a wide range of data from molecular biology ethnoprimateology epidemiology ecology anthropology and other fields to reveal the intimate relationships between culture and environment that shape the trajectory of a parasite She argues against the entrenched distinction between human and non human malarias using ethnoprimateology to develop a new understanding of cross species exchange She also shows how current human environment interactions including deforestation and development create the potential for new forms of malaria to threaten human populations This
