Subject In Question Departmental Organization And The High School:

The Subjects in Question Leslie Santee Siskin, Judith Warren Little, 1995 Subject departments are the high school's primary organizational unit defining who teachers are what they do where and with whom they work and how that work is perceived by others Subject organization is a feature so prominent that most educators take it for granted Yet in all the varied discourse about schools and schooling few have penetrated the accepted stereotypes Until now Contributors W Richard Scott Randi C Cohen Joan E Talbert Stephen J Ball Colin Lacey Don Hill Andy Hargreaves and Robert Macmillan

Educational Administration, Policy, and Reform Wayne K. Hoy, Cecil Miskel, 2004-05-01 This book series on Theory and Research in Educational Administration is about understanding schools We welcome articles and analyses that explain school organizations and administration We are interested in the why questions about schools To that end case analyses surveys large data base analyses experimental studies and theoretical analyses are all welcome We provide the space for authors to do comprehensive analyses where that is appropriate and useful We believe that the Theory and Research in Educational Administration Series has the potential to make an important contribution to our field but we will be successful only if our colleagues continue to join us in this mission Reference Guide to Writing Across the Curriculum Charles Bazerman, 2005 This reference guide traces the Writing Across the Curriculum movement from its origins in British secondary education through its flourishing in American higher education and extension to American primary and secondary education Connecting Policy and Practice Michael Kompf, Pam Denicolo, 2005-06-03 Written by members of the International Study Association on Teachers and Teaching the papers in this volume were presented at an international teaching conference on the issues of theory and practice Using these contributions from experienced researchers most of whom are practising teachers this single volume is international in scope and context demonstrating differences and similarities between and within countries This detailed book is clearly split into five sections focusing on the following themes teacher education professional identity professional research and quality of teacher education teacher practice basic values ethics and cultural scaffolding higher education academic motivation discourse dissonance concerning intellectual property self studies of teacher education practice teacher development the challenge to be the best teacher the link between policy and practice personal theory and practice in tertiary development research and theory reflective practice shared democratic values teachers as researchers Redesigning Accountability Systems for Education Susan H. Fuhrman, Richard F. Elmore, Measuring History S. G. Grant, 2009-03-01 Measuring History complements the cases presented in Wise Social Studies Practices Yeager Davis 2005 Yeager and Davis highlight the rich and ambitious teaching that can occur in the broad context of state level testing In this book the chapter authors and I bring the particular state history tests more to the fore and examine how teachers are responding to them At the heart of Measuring History are cases of classroom teachers in seven states Florida Kentucky Michigan New York Texas Mississippi and Virginia where new social studies standards and new and generally high stakes state level history tests are prominent In these chapters the authors describe and analyze the state s testing efforts and how those efforts are being interpreted in the context of classroom practice The results both support and challenge prevailing views on the efficacy of testing as a vehicle for educational reform Catherine Horn University of Houston and I lay the groundwork for the case studies through a set of introductory chapters that examine the current environment the research literature and the technical qualities of history tests
