Ancient Prophecy Martti Nissinen, 2017-11-28 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations

Ancient Prophecy Near Eastern Biblical and Greek Perspectives is the first monograph length comparative study on prophetic divination in ancient Near Eastern biblical and Greek sources Prophecy is one of the ways humans have believed to become conversant with what is believed to be superhuman knowledge The prophetic process of communication involves the prophet her his audience and the deity from whom the message allegedly comes from Martti Nissinen introduces a wealth of ancient sources documenting the prophetic phenomenon around the ancient Eastern Mediterranean whether cuneiform tablets from Mesopotamia the Hebrew Bible Greek inscriptions or ancient historians Nissinen provides an up to date presentation of textual sources the number of which has increased substantially in recent times In addition the study includes four analytical comparative chapters The first demonstrates the altered state of consciousness to be one of the central characteristics of the prophets public behavior The second discusses the prophets affiliation with temples which are the typical venues of the prophetic performance The third delves into the relationship between prophets and kings which can be both critical and supportive The fourth shows gender inclusiveness to be one of the peculiar features of the prophetic agency which could be executed by women men and genderless persons as well The ways prophetic divination manifests itself in ancient sources depend not only on the socio religious position of the prophets in a given society but also on the genre and purpose of the sources Nissinen contends that even though the view of the ancient prophetic landscape is restricted by the fragmentary and secondary nature of the sources it is possible to reconstruct essential features of prophetic divination at the socio religious roots of the Western civilization Studies on Mythology and Uralic Shamanism Mihály Hoppál,2000 A collection of essays focusing on comparative mythology which have appeared in various journals most out of print over the past 15 years The essays provide a picture of the history and development of comparative research into Finno Uralic mythology and of its state at the end of the 20th century Common to these writings is a consistent semiotic approach which can be used in the description of mythological and belief systems The book is distributed by ISBS The author is a senior research fellow at the Institute of Ethnology at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences and director of the European Folklore Institute Distributed by ISBS c Book News Inc Folk Beliefs and Shamanistic Traditions in Siberia Vilmos Diószegi,Mihály Hoppál,1996 Selected repr ed by Mihály Hoppál Shamans and Cultures Mihály Hoppál,Keith Howard,1993 This book is to promote research in the fields of anthropology arts archeology ethnography linguistics physical anthropology religion and comparative methodology and their interrelations in order to unveil the basic cultural unity of humankind and through this to promote mutual understanding of the common purpose and enhance international cooperation Northern Religions and Shamanism International Association for the History of Religions,1992 Shaman,2000
