Supporting Families The Financial Costs And Benefits Of Children Since 1975:

Supporting Families Adam, Stuart, Brewer, Mike, 2004-01-14 This report provides a comprehensive quantitative analysis of trends in child contingent support from the mid 1970s to the introduction of the new tax credits and relates this to changes in tax and benefit policy the characteristics of households with children and the costs of raising children The War Between the State and the Family Patricia M. Morgan, Children's Rights and the Developing Law Jane Fortin, 2009-08-13 This book examines how developing law and policies in England and Wales simultaneously promote and undermine children's rights Understanding Social Security (Second Edition) Jane Millar, 2009-02-02 The second edition of this important text reviews policy developments since 1997 The chapters have been extensively updated and there are new chapters on social security reform inequalities and social security and the new welfare market Inequality and the State John Hills, 2004-10-28 This book is about inequality how the State affects distribution through its spending programmes and through taxation and what the public thinks of these three issues It describes and analyses one of the biggest social changes in Britain since the Second World War the dramatic widening of the income distribution since the end of the 1970s the growth of poverty and the factors that have driven them And it examines how government social spending and the taxes that pay for it affect this distribution and why they take the forms they do Each part of the discussion is set in the context of public attitudes as revealed by the rigorous and long running British Social Attitudes survey and of Britain's position by comparison with other countries Against this background the book analyses changes in policy since New Labour came to government in 1997 discusses the impacts of these changes and looks at the constraints and pressures on future policies before concluding with a discussion of the dilemmas facing policy makers as they try to meet competing aims in reducing poverty and inequality growing demands on social spending and the constraints and opportunities created by public attitudes

Families and the State Commission on Families and the Wellbeing of Children (Great Britain), NCH (Great Britain), 2005-10-31 This report from The Commission on Families and the Wellbeing of Children addresses critical issues of child poverty and inequality in the context of the relationship between the state and families It considers ways in which the state should support families and the difficult balance to be struck between its caring and control functions A Revolution in Family Policy Clem Henricson, 2012-09-26 This book offers a radical rethink of family policy in the UK Clem Henricson the family policy expert analyses in detail the major shift in the role of the state viz a viz personal relationships in recent years with its aspirations to reduce child poverty increase social mobility and deliver social cohesion Brought in by New Labour and carried forward albeit in diluted form by the Coalition Henricson asks whether this philosophy of social betterment through manipulating the parent child relationship is appropriate for family policy She challenges the thinking behind the expectation that you can change a highly unequal society through the family route Instead the argument is made for a family policy with its own raison d'être free of other government agendas A premium is set on the need to manage the multiple core tensions in families of affection empathy and supportiveness on the one hand and aggression deception and self interest on the other A set of coherent support and control policies for family relations are developed which endorse this awareness and embrace a fundamental shift in perspective for future progressive governments Families in Society McKie, Linda, Cunningham-Burley, Sarah, 2005-09-21 The enduring and multi faceted significance of families in society and their value as a focus for the exploration of social change have ensured that families remain a prominent focus of academic enquiry This book proposes a new conceptual framework that both challenges and attempts to reconcile traditional and contemporary approaches Dimensions of Tax Design James A. Mirrlees, Stuart Adam, 2010-04-29 The goal of the Mirrlees Review has been to identify what makes a good tax system for an open developed economy in the 21st century and to suggest how the UK tax system could be reformed to move in that direction As an integral part of the Review this volume brings together thirteen studies of different dimensions of tax design plus associated commentaries These were commissioned from IFS researchers and other international experts to be of interest and value in their ownright as well as to provide inspiration for the final report of the Review which is published as a separate volume Tax by Design The Commission s work was directed by Tim Besley Richard Blundell Malcolm Gammie James Poterba The Commission s editorial team Stuart Adam Stephen Bond Robert Chote Paul Johnson Gareth Myles Ethics, Law and Society Jennifer Gunning, 2022-07-30 This key collection brings together a selection of papers commissioned and published by the Cardiff Centre for Ethics Law Society It incorporates contributions from a group of international experts along with a selection of short opinion pieces written in response to specific ethical issues The collection addresses issues arising in biomedical and medical ethics ranging from assisted reproductive technologies to the role of clinical ethics committees It examines broader societal issues with particular emphasis on sustainability and the environment and also focuses on issues of human rights in current global contexts The contributors collect responses to issues arising from high profile cases such as the legitimacy of war in Iraq to physician related suicide The volume will provide a valuable resource for practitioners and academics with an interest in ethics across a range of disciplines
