Suppressor Cells And Their Factors:

Suppressor Cells and Their Factors Randall S. Krakauer, 2018-01-18 It has only been a short time since the existence of suppressor cells was demonstrated yet in this period of time a great deal of information has been compiled concerning their basic science and their functions or disordered functions in human disease This volume is an attempt to clarify the immune mechanisms through which these cells act their normal functions and how their functions are disordered in certain disease states In this volume some rational approaches are proposed to therapy of diseases perceived at least partially due to disordered immune regulation Particular focus is on the recently emerging field of soluble suppressor factors as a means of providing adoptive immunotherapy in certain situations I hope that future work in this field will justify the confidence in this approach Cumulated Index Medicus ,1989 The Immunopathology of Lymphoreticular Neoplasms J. Twomey, 2012-12-06 Until recently understanding of the lymphomas was limited and largely descriptive Attention has been focused for the most part upon morphological issues and clinical matters Although useful this approach has many shortcomings The true cytoidentity of primary neoplastic cells was not established by these methods nor could their clonal nature be recognized The more overt changes in immunological function such as monoclonal gammopathies and immunodeficiencies were appreciated as important components of these diseases However subtle immunological perturbations were not recognized Furthermore associations were not established between the lymphoreticular neoplasms on the one hand and both primary and secondary immunological abnormalities on the other There has been considerable recent progress in the fields of immunobiology cytology and immunochemistry These new approaches have proved readily applicable to studies on the lymphomas The term lymphoma has been applied to a heterogeneous group of neoplasms that involve lymphoid tissues This term is not altogether satisfactory since it implies that cells of primarily the lymphoid series are involved in the neoplastic process Some neoplasms heretofore classified as lymphomas now appear from the results of penetrating analysis using newer methodology to be malignancies of the macrophage series rather than of the lymphocytic series These neoplasms include Hodgkin's disease and a minority of neoplasms previously referred to as histiocytic lymphomas The majority of these histiocytic lymphomas are now known to be lymphoid malignancies involving the B cell series Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,1980 JNCI, Journal of the National Cancer Institute National Cancer Institute (U.S.), 1982 Bibliography of Medical Reviews ,1976 Monoclonal T Cells and Their Products Marc Feldmann, Max H. Schreier, 1982 Experimental Evaluation of Antitumor Drugs in the USA and USSR and Clinical Correlations ,1981 Suppressor B Lymphocytes R  m Viktorovich Petrov, R. M. Khaitov, B. V. Pinegin, 1988 In 1976 a new class of immunoregulatory cells was discovered suppressor B cells Since then research into the area has progressed rapidly and there is currently evidence for B cell mediated suppression of both humoral and cellular immune responses This book contains a review by Petrov co discoverer It covers the existence properties and functions of suppressor B cells both those in nonimmune animals and those generated in an immune response Individual price 93 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Fundamental Immunology William E.
