Surfing The:

Surfing the Past Olivier Nyirubugara, 2012 This book discusses one of the most frequently discussed subjects in history education during the last two decades namely how secondary school pupils use the World Wide Web for their learning activities Based on two case studies in two Dutch schools the book shows some ways in which the use of the Web has changed history education in at least three respects first the findings of the two case studies show that the Web has a huge potential to turn the history class previously described as boring and too abstract into a livelier and more attractive environment where concepts events phenomena and processes of the past almost always have textual and or audio visual representations second strong indications were observed showing that the Web fosters historical understanding not only by triggering thinking processes that take pupils beyond the shown contents but also by prompting them to evaluate sources and sample relevant fragments for their assignments third the Web has brought into history education sources that were previously excluded including those described as unconventional This book shows among other things that convergence is underway on both the user side since pupils use both conventional and unconventional online sources and the content production side where heritage institutions are increasingly getting involved in unconventional platforms like Wikipedia The latter emerged from the two case studies as the most popular source of historical information while the websites of heritage institutions tended to appear at the bottom of the list of references Unlike personal sites which also scored better heritage sites face some obstacles including the still dominant desire to preserve institutions identity and uniqueness conservatism which often prevents the redefinition of collection management tasks and the tax payers dilemma For that reason collections are not hyperlinked and therefore remain invisible and not easy to find online Surfing the South Steve Estes, 2022-02-23 When most Americans think of surfing they often envision waves off the coasts of California Hawai i or even New Jersey What few know is that the South has its own surf culture To fully explore this unsung surfing world Steve Estes undertook a journey that stretched more than 2 300 miles traveling from the coast of Texas to Ocean City Maryland Along the way he interviewed and surfed alongside dozens of people wealthy and poor men and women Black and white all of whom opened up about their lives how they saw themselves and what the sport means to them They also talked about race class the environment and how surfing has shaped their identities The cast includes a retired Mississippi riverboat captain and alligator hunter who was one of the first to surf the Gulf Coast of Louisiana a Pensacola sheet metal worker who ran the China Beach Surf Club while he was stationed in Vietnam and a Daytona Beach swimsuit model who shot the curl in the 1966 World Surfing Championships before circumnavigating the globe in search of waves and adventure From these varied and surprising stories emerge a complex sometimes troubling but nevertheless beautiful picture of the modern South and its people Surfing the Internet Safely MCP CCNA Whitney Hankison, McP Hankison, 2009-03 Internet Guidance for youth and adults Easy to read with great practice lessons this book guides youth and adults into being able to find the information they need while doing so safely With many pictures and detailed explanations readers will have fun while learning a skill that will last their whole lives It will Cover all aspects of using an Internet browser Have examples of some topics youth age children look for and how to best find the information Discuss the different search engines and their results Show how to get the information from a browser into another program such as word processing Go through saving information from the Internet to use later Discuss printing from the Internet Discuss shopping on the Internet Discuss social networking on the Internet Discuss Internet predators and how to avoid them Have exercises in put it into practice sections and two projects at the end of the book Many recommendations for both youth and adults on Internet safety practices Have a special chapter for parents and teachers to help keep family members and their computer safe The exercises provide a great opportunity for adults to interact with their family and learn too

You Are Probability: Surfing The Matrix Andrea Diem-Lane, David Christopher Lane, 2014-03-15 Just think of your father's sperm as a starting off point A usual male produces about 100 million sperm per ejaculation Only one of those sperm will survive the arduous journey to its terminal apex How many sperm does a male produce in say an 80 year life span No precise count is possible since it varies with each individual but one can roughly estimate the number to be around 500 billion or perhaps more impressive sounding as a 1 2 trillion If your own father had five children this would mean that just in terms of sperm you are a 1 in a 100 billion winner Couple this with the rarity of your mother's egg of the nearly half million follicles where only about 400 or so will become viable and the very fact that you are alive reading this essay is beyond any moneyed lottery you will ever enter

Surfing the South Steve Estes, 2022-05-03 When most Americans think of surfing they often envision waves off the coasts of California Hawai'i or even New Jersey What few know is that the South has its own surf culture To fully explore this unsung surfing world Steve Estes undertook a journey that stretched more than 2 300 miles traveling from the coast of Texas to Ocean City Maryland Along the way he interviewed and surfed alongside dozens of people wealthy and poor men and women Black and white all of whom opened up about their lives how they saw themselves and what the sport means to them They also talked about race class the environment and how surfing has shaped their identities The cast includes a retired Mississippi riverboat captain and alligator hunter who was one of the first to surf the Gulf Coast of Louisiana a Pensacola sheet metal worker who ran the China Beach Surf Club while he was stationed in Vietnam and a Daytona Beach swimsuit model who shot the curl in the 1966 World Surfing Championships before circumnavigating the globe in search of waves and adventure From these varied and surprising stories emerge a complex sometimes troubling but nevertheless beautiful picture of the modern South and its people
