

Peacekeeping vs. Peacemaking

- Peacemaking usually involves UN troops directly in armed combat
- It is designed to bring peace to the affected area by pushing the conflicting parties to the negotiating table
- The UN played peacemaking roles in Korea (1950-53) and the Persian Gulf (1991)

amidst Conflict and Postcolonialism Christopher P. Davey, Cris Toffolo, Maria Paula Unigarro Alba, 2023-05-26 In a world where post conflict and postcolonial countries struggle to heal from the past and meet new challenges peace education is often neglected and instrumentalized for political agendas Drawing on case studies from Afghanistan Bolivia Burundi Colombia Myanmar Nepal New Zealand Northern Ireland Sri Lanka and Uruguay this book shows that cultural and structural violence can in turn lead to direct violence An effective program of peace education responds to these dynamics meeting our urgent problems and opening up new opportunities for peacebuilding With this direction in mind this book addresses the practices of peace education from around the world The fundamental question answered here is can peace be taught especially where the scars of war and legacies of colonialism are entrenched in society Peace education is foundational to a more equitable future where global citizens share a planet in justice equity with human security and all the elements of sustainable resilient peace Foremost it is an essential pillar for societies scarred by violence Interreligious Curriculum for Peace Education in Nigeria Isaiah Ekundayo Dada, 2019-04-18 Nigeria a country under a military regime for several years transitioned to a civilian regime in May 1999 Since this change violent conflicts between Christians and Muslims have continued to erupt They constitute one of the gravest dangers facing Nigeria a country with a population of 189 million people What have Nigerian religious leaders done about this situation especially in educational circles Have they received formal educational training to understand the causes of this violence and especially how to provide alternatives for more peaceful relations within Nigeria Does the current educational system in Nigeria provide the main ingredients for the promotion of a culture of peace The absence and neglect of interreligious peace education as part of a peace education core program and the lack of an interreligious curriculum for peace education in the training of religious leaders are the two problems contributing towards the lack of effectiveness of religious leaders in promoting less violent and more peaceful living The solution to the problem is proposed in this book entitled Interreligious Curriculum for Peace Education in Nigeria The book develops a one year curriculum building on Yoruba Islamic Christian conceptions of peace and teaches how to create safe caring spiritual peaceful and successful interfaith relationships between all Nigerian religious communities In the long term the book helps to educate religious leaders to contribute in themselves and with the help of their respective religious communities to reducing the growing religious violence in Nigeria

Peace Education in a Postmodern World Ian M. Harris, 2013-12-16

This special issue of the Peabody Journal of Education provides a comprehensive overview of the latest developments in peace education reform School reforms based upon principles of peace education have in common a belief in the power of peace to create a positive learning climate in schools and to address the problems of violence in the broader culture A peace education strategy for improving school productivity rests upon three main assumptions 1 Violence contributes to the poor performance of many students 2 Adults in school settings need to address problems created by violence in order for schools to improve 3 Anxieties that make it hard for students to master traditional subject matter can best be addressed by a comprehensive peace education strategy that makes school a safe place to learn and provides students with knowledge about alternative nonviolent ways to resolve conflicts Peace building reforms go beyond responding to immediate forms of violence that may be overwhelming students and teachers to promoting positive images of peace through the study of nonviolence Written by established experts in the field of peace education from six different countries this collection of articles not only represents a wide variety of peace education practices from different corners of the globe but it also represents varying academic perspectives Educators can play a key role in helping human societies progress toward more sustainable ways of living by implementing peacemaking peacekeeping and peace building strategies in school programs Peace education reforms point to a new way of thinking about schools as vehicles for promoting a peace culture through insights offered by nonviolent theory

Conflict, Reconciliation and Peace Education William Timpson, Elavie Ndura, Apollinaire Bangayimbaga, 2014-11-27

When the September 11 2001 attacks in the United States occurred causing that nation to wage wars of revenge in Afghanistan and Iraq the people of Burundi were recovering from nearly forty years of violence genocide and civil wars that had killed nearly one million and produced another million refugees Here in this small East African nation one of the four poorest nations on earth however was a desire for reconciliation not revenge and it still runs deep today The University of Ngozi in northern Burundi was created in 1999 and is now dedicated to peace reconciliation and sustainable development People in this region tell remarkable stories of tragedy and recovery amid these horrors Their stories can inspire others to preserve their humanity and resist the urge to continue the violence focusing instead on forgiveness reconciliation and a better way forward This volume presents case study analysis while pointing to the promise of a new kind of education that is committed to sustainable peace and development The lessons here for the rest of the world are deep and inspiring
