Teaching Meaning In Artmaking:

Teaching Meaning in Artmaking Sydney R. Walker, 2001-01-01 The Art Education in Practice series provides working art educators with accessible guides to significant issues in the field. Developments in the field of art education are consolidated into a clear presentation of what a practising teacher needs to know. Each title in the series delivers sensible solutions transforming research and theory into tangible classroom strategies. Paramount to the series is the concept of informed practice whereby important and often complex art education topics are put into the context of the working art teacher and real classroom environments.

Teaching Toward Democracy William Ayers, Kevin Kumashiro, Erica Meiners, Therese Quinn, David Stovall, 2015-11-17 Teaching Toward Democracy examines the contested space of schooling and school reform with a focus on the unique challenges and opportunities that teaching in a democratic society provides. Teaching in and for democracy involves developing particular qualities of mind that teachers explore and work to develop as they become more effective educators. Some chapters open with familiar experiences in the lives of teachers in schools working with parents and communities or dealing with classroom discipline and management and illuminate that commonplace in new helpful and sometimes startling ways. Other chapters present possible interventions any teacher might make in any classroom for example using the arts as an organizing center and metaphor for teaching more generally or rethinking the press of politics on our every day practice. This book foregrounds the central idea that democratic ideals are a necessary starting point and context in which to enact our teaching here and now.

Counternarratives from Asian American Art Educators Ryan Shin, Maria Lim, Oksun Lee, Sandrine Han, 2022-12-26 Counternarratives from Asian American Art Educators Identities Pedagogies and Practice beyond the Western Paradigm collects and explores the professional and pedagogical narratives of Asian art educators and researchers in North America. Few studies published since the substantial immigration of Asian art educators to the United States in the 1990s have addressed their professional identities in higher education K 12 and museum contexts. By foregrounding narratives from Asian American arts educators within these settings this edited volume enacts a critical shift from Western Eurocentric perspectives to the unique contributions of Asian American practitioners. Enhanced by the application of the AsianCrit framework and theories of intersectionality positionality decolonization and allyship these original contributor counternarratives focus on professional and pedagogical discourses and practices that support Asian American identity development and practice. A significant contribution to the field of art education this book highlights the voices and experiences of Asian art educators and serves as an ideal scholarly resource for exploring their identity formation construction and development of a historically underrepresented minoritized group in North America.
