Resources in Education, 1999 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Forthcoming
Books Rose Arny, 1996-06 Inspiring Literacy Sam Leaton Sebesta, Kenneth L. Donelson, 1993-01-01 Doing History
Linda S. Levstik, Keith C. Barton, 2022-09-06 Now in its sixth edition Doing History offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The book is grounded in the view that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry asking questions collecting and analyzing evidence examining the varied perspectives and experiences of people in the past and creating evidence based historical accounts and interpretations Grounded in contemporary sociocultural theory and research the text features vignettes in each chapter showing communities of teachers and students doing history in environments rich in literature art writing and discussion The authors explain how these classrooms reflect contemporary principles of teaching and learning and thus the descriptions not only provide specific examples of successful activities but also place them in a context that allows teachers to adapt and apply them in a wide range of settings Doing History emphasizes diversity in two ways Readers encounter students from a variety of backgrounds and see how their diverse experiences can form the foundation for learning and they also see examples of how teachers can engage students with diverse experiences and perspectives in the past including those that led to conflict and oppression The book also discusses principles for working with English learners and newcomers and it provides guidance in using multiple forms of assessment to evaluate the specifically historical aspects of children s learning Updates to this edition include updated historical and instructional examples to ensure currency new suggestions for children s literature to support good teaching expanded attention to teaching about oppressed groups in history and greater attention to when historical perspective taking is and is not appropriate Bridging the Literacy Achievement Gap, Grades 4-12 Dorothy S. Strickland, Donna E. Alvermann, 2004-05-26 This book addresses critical issues related to pre adolescent and adolescent literacy learners with a focus on closing the achievement gap Despite efforts by educators and policymakers during the past several decades certain groups of students primarily African American students English language learners and students from low income homes continue to underperform on commonly used measures of academic achievement Too often teachers and administrators lack both proper preparation and good ideas to confront these issues The Brothers and Sisters Learn to Write Anne Haas Dyson, 2003 Building on her groundbreaking work in Writing Superheroes Anne Dyson traces the influence of a wide ranging set of textual toys from children s lives church and hip hop songs rap music movies TV traditional jump rope rhymes the words of professional sports announcers and radio deejays upon school learning and writing Wonderfully rich portraits of five African American first graders demonstrate how children s imaginative use of wider cultural symbols enriches their school learning Featuring lively and engaging vignettes of children who are often left behind by our educational system this book Provides a detailed view of written language development from inside a particular childhood culture Shows that children bring a rich folk culture to school and demonstrates how they remix their cultural references to accommodate school tasks such as writing Turns the traditional educational view inside out by starting from inside a child s culture and looking out toward the demands of school rather than starting on the outside of the child and looking in Provides concrete examples of how children s cultural literacy practices translate into classroom practices and in turn into practices of academic success The most significant work that has ever been done in this area It is superior in every respect and Anne Dyson writes like a dream Tom Newkirk University of New Hampshire This book is unique in that it features students who draw on the cultural experiences of the Black church sister and brother play family games rap and Black popular music It should be ideal in courses on literacy learning Arnetha Ball School of Education Stanford University

The Testing Trap George Hillocks,2002-04-12 Do statewide assessments really do what they are supposed to do Through interviews with over three hundred teachers and administrators Hillocks examines whether state writing tests in Illinois Kentucky Oregon New York and Texas actually improve students ability to express their thinking in writing Ultimately Hillocks argues that the majority of existing tests actually have a harmful effect on the way students are taught to write In addition to providing analyses of assessments that do not encourage good writing The Testing Trap contrasts them to those that do Concluding with practical procedures for examining and evaluating writing assessments this book is a provocative and essential read for administrators teachers policymakers parents and all who care about the education of our children

"Just Playing the Part" Christopher Worthman,2002 Focusing on the transformative power of the creative arts process Christopher Worthman offers readers a new way of thinking about literacy development and specifically the teaching of writing and out of school literacies Rich with theoretical and practical insights this groundbreaking ethnography describes and analyzes the writing development of a group of teenagers involved in a unique community based teen theater project Includes detailed descriptions of improvisational activities that can be adapted for use by other classes or ensembles

New Literacies in Action William Kist,2005 This book examines the work of pioneers teachers who have transformed their classrooms in an effort to broaden the literacy of their students describing some of the most innovative examples of teaching and learning

African American Males in School and Society Vernon C. Polite, James Earl Davis, 1999-10 In this groundbreaking and timely volume Vernon Polite and James Davis have brought together the perspectives and research findings of eminent scholars who study the educational and social lives of African American males The result is a volume that brims with new outlooks and viewpoints a refreshing departure from pervasive and oftentimes stereotypical literature about the African American male experience and gives the reader access to prevalent issues affecting this population today Thoughtful attention is paid to broader outcomes such as educational attainment job procurement and quality of life These topics are discussed against the backdrop of student background and schooling with an overall aim to improve the academic and social outcomes of this population Chapters range from explorations into identifying giftedness and responsive teaching styles to educating African American males in the suburbs The contributors to this volume offer differing methodologies and foci to document how the social and educational worlds of African American males cross and the editors suggest policy implications that derive from these studies This eloquent engaging and accessible volume has much to offer its readers and is especially important to people concerned with the well being of African American boys and men Inquiry-based English

Instruction Richard Beach, Jamie Myers, 2001-06-08 This valuable resource offers an alternative framework for middle and secondary school English instruction The authors provide concrete strategies for engaging students in critical inquiry projects about the social worlds they inhabit or about those portrayed in literature and the media their peer school family romance community workplace and virtual worlds You will find numerous examples of middle and high school students using various literacy tools language genres narratives signs multimedia and drama to study represent critique and transform these worlds Rather than simply studying about literacy practices this new framework shows how students learn best through active participation driven by a need to critically examine and promote changes in their social worlds The Child as Critic Glenna Davis Sloan,2003-01-01 This bestselling text has helped countless numbers of educators to create effective reading programs that are fun and inspiring for both the student and the educator New features include a chapter on contemporary literary theories for classroom practice a section on storytelling assessment advice and more Literacy Matters Robert Yagelski,2000 Literacy can empower students but it may also limit their understanding if taught without regard for the context of their lives Using his encounters with students in high school college and state prison classrooms as well as his own experience Robert Yagelski looks at the sometimes ambiguous role of literacy in our lives and examines the mismatch between conventional approaches to teaching literacy and the literacy needs of students in a rapidly changing increasingly technological world He asserts that ultimately the most important job of the English teacher is to reveal to students ways they can participate in the discourse that shapes their lives and he offers a timely look at how technology has influenced the way we write and read The scope of this fascinating book reaches beyond the classroom and offers insight about what it means to be literate in an economically driven dynamic society Addressing earlier works on the subject of literacy as well as the ideas of theorists such as Foucault this perceptive work has much to offer educators and anyone seeking to understand the nature of literacy itself Research on Composition Peter Smagorinsky,2006 Covering the period between 1984 and 2003 this authoritative sequel picks up where the earlier volumes Braddock et al 1963 and Hillocks 1986 now classics in the field left off It features a broader focus that goes beyond the classroom teaching of writing to include teacher research second language writing rhetoric home and community literacy workplace literacy and histories of writing Each chapter is written by an expert in the area reviewed and covers both conventional written composition and multimodal forms of composition including drawing digital forms and other relevant media Research on Composition is an invaluable road map of composition research for the next decade and required reading for anyone teaching or writing about composition today Talking Their Way Into Science Karen Gallas,1995-01-01 Karen Gallas provides us with a window into children s thinking about the world enabling us to see how students build complex theories identify important questions and begin to enter the world of science all within the naturalistic setting of the classroom As the title suggests this book treats classroom science as a particular type of discourse with its own set of language and thinking practices Gallas describes the content structure and practice of her child centered approach explains how the teacher s role in Science Talks develops and changes over time and discusses how the use of Science Talks could transform science instruction as a whole The full transcripts of two such talks included in the appendix in addition to many smaller quoted interchanges throughout the text will fascinate readers Reading for Meaning Barbara M. Taylor,Michael F. Graves,Paulus Willem van den Broek,2000 Reading comprehension is of great concern to many Americans as evidenced by the mandate in most states today for graduation standards in reading and for assessments aligned to those standards This book focuses on what has been learned from research about fostering reading comprehension in the middle grades providing a broad overview of current educational and psychological research about effective strategies for teaching reading to middle grade students Following an introduction by the editors essays in the book are as follows 1 The Mind in Action What It Means to Comprehend during Reading Paul van den Broeck and Kathleen E Kremer 2 Comprehension Instruction in Elementary School A Quarter Century of Research Progress Michael Pressley 3 Explicit and Implicit Instruction in Comprehension Janice A Dole 4 Balancing Literature and Instruction Lessons from the Book Club Project Taffy E Raphael 5 Building Student Capacity to Work Productively during Peer Assisted Reading Activities Lynn S Fuchs and Douglas Fuchs 6 A Vocabulary Program to Complement and Bolster a Middle Grade Comprehension Program Michael F Graves 7 Classroom Talk about Texts Is It Dear Cheap or a Bargain at Any Price Donna E Alvermann 8 Literacy Lessons Derived from the Instruction of Six Latina Latino Teachers Robert T Jimenez and 9 Beyond Balance Goal Awareness Developmental Progressions Tailoring to the Context and Supports for Teachers in Ideal Reading and Literacy Programs Jere Brophy NKA Library Media Connection ,1995
