Abstract: Education is not only a major plan for national development, but also an important issue for social development. Some researchers have found that different styles of teachers will have completely different impacts on students' learning, but there are still gaps in the experiments on the formation mechanism and specific forms behind it. Therefore, the research theme of this paper is the influence of teachers' teaching style on students' learning. The research methods of this paper are as follows: First, the questionnaire of senior high school English classroom teachers' teaching style is collected, and then the data is analyzed by the test. The results show that traditional and closed-minded teachers are not conducive to the development of students' self-esteem, creativity, learning interest and academic performance. Therefore, teachers should teach students according to their aptitude and find more suitable teaching methods.

Keywords: teaching style, high school students, academic performance

1. Introduction

Education has always been an important issue in today's social development, and it is closely related to social development. Due to the differences in students' education, there are great differences in students' academic performance. Traditional closed teachers are not conducive to the development of students' self-esteem, creativity, so the author hope to through comparing different teachers teaching style to choose more suitable for students' body and mind, academic development of teacher style by comparing different teachers teaching styles and academic performance in high school English classroom. This paper studies the relationship between the two to improve students' classroom participation and academic performance by improving their teaching style.

2.1. The Relationship Between Critical Thinking Ability, Teachers' Teaching Style and Academic Achievement

Prior studies on the relationship between critical thinking skills, teacher teaching styles and academic achievement of high school students concluded that the overall perception of teacher teaching styles by high school students was positively correlated with academic achievement. Measurement of teachers' teaching styles in China and other countries has mainly adopted the two methods of observation. Moreover, two measurement perspectives have been formed: the teacher's perspective and the student's perspective. Specifically, measurement from the teacher's perspective

Mathematical Enculturation Alan Bishop, 1991-06-30 Mathematics is in the unenviable position of being simultaneously one of the most important school subjects for today's children to study and one of the least well understood Its reputation is awe inspiring Everybody knows how important it is and everybody knows that they have to study it But few people feel comfortable with it so much so that it is socially quite acceptable in many countries to confess ignorance about it to brag about one's incompetence at doing it and even to claim that one is mathophobic So are teachers around the world being apparently legal sadists by inflicting mental pain on their charges Or is it that their pupils are all masochists enjoying the thrill of self inflicted mental torture More seriously do we really know what the reasons are for the mathematical activity which goes on in schools Do we really have confidence in our criteria for judging what s important and what isn t Do we really know what we should be doing These basic questions become even more important when considered in the context of two growing problem areas The first is a concern felt in many countries about the direction which mathematics education should take in the face of the increasing presence of computers and calculator related technology in society
