Tears For The Living:

Littell's Living Age ,1883 Holistic Living Euckay U. Onyeizugbo,2011-06-01 Wholeness is a process that encompasses all that we are as humans in interaction The contemporary human is in a great deal of psychological distress As a result people do all sorts of extreme things to ease the tension For instance some become hedonistic with inordinate desires for drugs alcohol tranquilizers etc food and sex whereas some become fanatical in their belief system including religious beliefs with tendency toward externality The extent that the human person succeeds in integrating the physical psychosocial and spiritual domain is the extent that humanity evolves to a higher level of consciousness whereby the individual being at peace with oneself reaches out creatively and assertively to neighbours and to the larger world that encompasses humans and the natural order in harmony The Death Rituals of Rural Greece Loring M.

Danforth,1982-12-21 This compelling text and dramatic photographic essay convey the emotional power of the death rituals of a small Greek village the funeral the singing of laments the distribution of food the daily visits to the graves and especially the rite of exhumation These rituals help Greek villagers face the universal paradox of mourning how can the living sustain relationships with the dead and at the same time bring them to an end in order to continue to live meaningfully as members of a community That is the villagers dilemma and our own Thirty one moving photographs reproduced in duotone to do justice to their great beauty combine with vivid descriptions of the bereaved women of Potamia and with the words of the funeral laments to allow the reader an unusual emotional identification with the people of rural Greece as they struggle to integrate the experience of death into their daily lives Loring M Danforth s sensitive use of symbolic and structural analysis complements his discussion of the social context in which these rituals occur He explores important themes in rural Greek life such as the position of women patterns of reciprocity and obligation and the nature of social relations within the family
