2. The template is designed to achieve uniformity of all papers in the NAMRC 46 proceedings. The typography, layout and style used in this template is exactly the same, as you should use when preparing your paper. It explains how to prepare an electronic printer-ready version. Your paper will be published "as is". Please use the styles defined in the NAMRC Paper Template (this document) to format your paper. The official language of the conference is English. If English is not your mother tongue, make sure that the English is checked by a competent editor. Poor English will be a reason for rejection of the paper.

well as with the author's peers. Your manuscript must provide the details of the work to readers. It should be divided into sections, each with a heading, so that a reader can follow the logical development of the work.

4. Your goal is to simulate, as closely as possible, the visual appearance of typeset papers in a scientific journal and previously published NAMRC papers in Procedia Manufacturing. The length of your paper should not exceed 12 pages. Please do not change the paper size and the defined styles.

5. The first section introduces the paper, and places a summary, if necessary, in a box with the same font size as the rest of the paper. The paragraphs continue from here and are only separated by headings, sub-headings, images and formulas. The section headings are arranged by numbers, bold and
