Studies In The American Renaissance 1994:

Fuller in Her Own Time Joel Myerson, 2008-09 Writer editor journalist educator feminist conversationalist and reformer Margaret Fuller 1810 1850 was one of the leading intellectuals of nineteenth century America as well as a prominent member of Concord literary circles Yet the challenging spirit behind her intellectual confidence and mesmerizing energy led to the invention of an unbalanced legacy that denied her a place among the canonical Concord writers This collection of first hand reminiscences by those who knew Fuller personally rescues her from these confusions and provides a clearer identity for this misrepresented personality The forty one remembrances from Nathaniel Hawthorne Oliver Wendell Holmes Ralph Waldo Emerson Thomas Carlyle Harriet Martineau Henry James and twenty four others chart Fuller s expanding influence from schooldays in Boston meetings at the Transcendental Club teaching in Providence and Boston work on the New York Tribune publications and conversations travels in the British Isles and life and love in Italy before her tragic early death Joel Myerson s perceptive introduction assesses the pre and postmortem building of Fuller s reputation as well as her relationship to the prominent Transcendentalists reformers literati and other personalities of her time and his headnotes to each selection present valuable connecting contexts The woman who admitted that at nineteen she was the most intolerable girl that ever took a seat in a drawing room whose Woman in the Nineteenth Century is considered the first major book length feminist call to action in America never conformed to nineteenth century expectations of self effacing womanhood The fascinating contradictions revealed by these narratives create a lively lifelike biography of Fuller s rare gifts and solid acquirements and unfailing intellectual sympathy

American Sympathy Caleb Crain, 2008-10-01 A friend in history Henry David Thoreau once wrote looks like some premature soul And in the history of friendship in early America Caleb Crain sees the soul of the nation s literature In a sensitive analysis that weaves together literary criticism and historical narrative Crain describes the strong friendships between men that supported and inspired some of America s greatest writing the Gothic novels of Charles Brockden Brown the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson and the novels of Herman Melville He traces the genealogy of these friendships through a series of stories A dapper English spy inspires a Quaker boy to run away from home Three Philadelphia gentlemen conduct a romance through diaries and letters in the 1780s Flighty teenager Charles Brockden Brown metamorphoses into a horror novelist by treating his friends as his literary guinea pigs Emerson exchanges glances with a Harvard classmate but sacrifices his crush on the altar of literature a decision Margaret Fuller invites him to reconsider two decades later Throughout this engaging book Crain demonstrates the many ways in which the struggle to commit feelings to paper informed the shape and texture of American literature

American Romanticism and the Popularization of Literary Education Clemens Spahr, 2022-03-03 American Romanticism and the Popularization of Literary Education focuses on three Romantic educational genres and their institutional and media contexts the conversation literary journalism and the public lecture The genres discussed in this book illustrate the ways in which the Transcendentalists engaged nineteenth-century media and educational institutions in order to fully realize their projects. The book also charts the development from the semi-public conversational platforms such as Alcott's Temple School and Fuller's conversations for women in the 1830s to the increasingly public periodical culture and lecture platforms of the 1840s and the early 1850s. This expansion caused a reconsideration of the meaning and function of Romanticism. Handbook of American Romanticism

Philipp Löffler, Clemens Spahr, Jan Stievernann, 2021-07-05. The Handbook of American Romanticism presents a comprehensive survey of the various schools, authors, and works that constituted antebellum literature in the United States. The volume is designed to feature a selection of representative case studies and to assess them within two complementary frameworks: the most relevant historical, political, and institutional contexts of the antebellum decades and the consequent re-appropriations of the Romantic period by academic literary criticism in the twentieth and early twenty-first centuries.

Toward a Female Genealogy of Transcendentalism Jana L. Argersinger, Phyllis Cole, 2014. The first large-scale collaborative study of women's voices and their vital role in the American transcendentalist movement. Many of its seventeen distinguished scholars work from newly recovered archives and all offer fresh readings of understudied topics and texts, shedding light on female contributions. Transcendentalism Joel Myerson, 2000. A collection of writings from leading figures of the 19th-century American Transcendentalist movement.

The American Transcendentalists Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, Margaret Fuller, Nathaniel Hawthorne, 2006-01-10. Transcendentalism was the first major intellectual movement in U.S. history, championing the inherent divinity of each individual as well as the value of collective social action. In the mid-nineteenth century, the movement took off, changing how Americans thought about religion, literature, the natural world, class distinctions, the role of women, and the existence of slavery. Edited by the eminent scholar Lawrence Buell, this comprehensive anthology contains the essential writings of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, Margaret Fuller, and their fellow visionaries. There are also reflections on the movement by Charles Dickens, Henry James, Walt Whitman, Louisa May Alcott, and Nathaniel Hawthorne. This remarkable volume introduces the radical innovations of a brilliant group of thinkers whose impact on religious thought, social reform, philosophy, and literature continues to reverberate in the twenty-first century.

Immigration, Ethnicity, and Class in American Writing, 1830-1860 Leonardo Buonomo, 2013-12-04. This book examines the close relationship between the portrayal of foreigners and the delineation of culture and identity in antebellum American writing. Both literary and historical in its approach, this study shows how, in a period marked by extensive immigration, heated debates on national and racial traits during a flowering in American letters encouraged responses from American authors to outsiders that not only contain precious insights into nineteenth-century America's self-construction but also serve to illuminate our own time's multicultural societies. The authors under consideration are alternately canonical (Emerson, Hawthorne, Melville) recently rediscovered (Kirkland) or simply neglected (Arthur). The texts analyzed cover such different genres as diaries, letters, newspapers, manuals, novels, stories, and poems. The Cambridge Companion to Ralph

Waldo Emerson Joel Porte (ed),Saundra Morris,1999-04-28 A collection of newly commissioned essays provides a critical introduction to pastor and poet Ralph Waldo Emerson Encyclopedia of Transcendentalism Tiffany K. Wayne,2014-05-14 Presents a reference guide to transcendentalism with articles on significant works writers concepts and more
