Studies On The Testament Of Joseph:

Studies on the Testament of Joseph George W. E. Nickelsburg, Society of Biblical Literature. Pseudepigrapha Group, 1975

The Face of Old Testament Studies David W. Baker, Bill T. Arnold, 2004-10 Leading scholars provide an overview of current issues in Old Testament studies Victim and Victimizer Yiu-Wing Fung, 2000-06-01 This book attempts an interesting exercise in character analysis It scrutinizes the speeches of Joseph in such a way as to expose the problematic nature of his claims to know God's intentions While Judah is forced by Joseph's test to choose slavery for the sake of his father's survival the ironic reversal of Judah's role from victimizer to victim is undercut by the rationale by which he had Joseph sold in order to save him Unwittingly Joseph mistakes this rationale as a divine principle that undergirds his suffering and he dreams of domination for the same purpose of survival He is unaware of Judah's real predicament and this double blindness calls into doubt the coalescence of perspectives of Joseph and the narrator Josephus and Modern Scholarship (1937-1980) Louis H. Feldman, 2015-11-27 No detailed description available for Josephus and Modern Scholarship 1937-1980

Selected Studies in Pseudepigrapha and Apocrypha with Special Reference to the Armenian Tradition Michael Stone, 2024-03-11 This work contains selected essays dealing with the Jewish Literature of the Second Temple period focusing around central themes of recent research Stone's varied interests are reflected in this book gathered around four main themes Under the title Enoch and the Testaments are assembled studies which present and draw the implications from recent discoveries including the Dead Sea Scrolls as they modify the view of these two pivotal documents of ancient Judaism Another focus of Stone's work has been 4 Ezra or 2 Esdras a work reflecting the situation of Judaism and especially to the understanding of apocalypticism form a third section of the present work while the particular development of apocryphal literature in Armenian is its fourth division This work presents a range of significant studies in areas standing at the forefront of the study of Ancient Judaism Josephus's Interpretation of the Bible Louis H. Feldman, 1999-01-18 Josephus A.D. 37-100 a pro Roman Jew closely associated with the emperor Titus is the earliest systematic commentator on the Bible as well as one of the foremost historians of the beginning of the Christian era Politically Josephus was pro Roman and although he had no sympathy for extreme Jewish nationalism he was a zealous defender of Jewish religion and culture Louis H. Feldman examines the principles that guided Josephus in his understanding of the Bible investigating his creative contribution in the rewriting of biblical accounts This comprehensive study evaluates Josephus as a historian and demonstrates the originality and consistency of his work as an author The first part of Feldman's work attempts to understand Josephus's purposes and techniques in retelling the Bible The second part reviews Josephus's treatment of twelve key biblical figures In addition to its reevaluation of an important early historian this unique compendium provides a mine of information on the reassessment of the most important biblical figures The Provenance of the Pseudepigrapha James R. Davila, 2005 This book analyzes a substantial corpus of Old Testament pseudepigrapha proposing a methodology for understanding them first in the social context of their earliest Christian manuscripts and inferring still earlier Jewish or other origins only as required by positive evidence

The Jewish Novel in the Ancient World Lawrence M. Wills, 2015-03-11 Lawrence M Wills here traces the literary evolution of popular Jewish narratives written during the period 200 BCE 100 CE In many ways these narratives were similar to Greek and Roman novels of the same era as well as to popular novels of indigenous peoples within the Roman Empire Yet as a group they demonstrated a variety of novelistic innovations the inclusion of adventurous episodes passages of description and of dialogue concern with psychological motivation and the introduction of female characters Wills focuses on five novels Greek Esther Greek Daniel Judith Tobit and Joseph and Aseneth Drawing on a wide range of theoretical works he delineates the techniques and motifs of the Jewish novel shows how the genre both initiated and distanced itself from nonfictional prose such as historical and philosophical writing discusses its relation to Greco Roman romance and describes the social conditions governing its emergence and reception Wills also places the novels in historical context situating them between the Hebrew Bible on the one hand and subsequent developments in Jewish and Christian literature on the other Wills sees the Jewish novel as a popular form of writing that provided amusement for an expanding audience of Jewish entrepreneurs merchants and bureaucrats In an important sense he maintains it was a product of the novelistic impulse the impulse to transfer oral stories to a written medium to reach a more literate audience

Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire J Edward Ellis, 2007-06-08 Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire refutes the argument put forward by some scholars that Paul in his sexual ethics is in partial agreement with a current of thought in the Greco Roman world that condemns sexual desire and advocates the elimination of such desire from marital sex Ellis argues against not only this line of thought but also the attendant notion that this way of thinking underlies Paul s comments on homosexual activity in Romans 1 Through close analysis of numerous ancient passages relating to sexual desire Ellis demonstrates that ancient thinkers tend to condemn not sexual desire in itself but excessive sexual desire and lack of self control Furthermore he contends that ancient auditors would have been unlikely to see condemnation of sexual desire in Paul s words in 1 Thessalonians 4 or 1 Corinthians 7

Biblical Figures Outside the Bible Michael E. Stone, Theodore A. Bergren, 2002-11-01 1999 Biblical Archaeology Society Publication Award for the category Best Book Relating to the Old Testament Explores the evolution of the biographical traditions of some fifteen biblical figures
