Bennett AO, 2019-05-28 For nearly a millennium universities have searched for knowledge understanding and truth Internationally renowned neuroscientist Professor Maxwell Bennett evaluates the work of 20 of the greatest scholars in the University of Sydney's history and shows how this university's search has benefitted society in manifold ways The Search for Knowledge and Understanding demonstrates an interdisciplinary approach as Bennett crafts short but insightful biographies of some of the most significant scholars that have worked at Australia's oldest university over the past half century in medicine the life sciences the physical sciences and the humanities and social sciences Bennet provides a striking account of how this particular scholarly community has flourished by nurturing scholars and allowing them with the intellectual freedom to pursue their passions. The Art of Vase-Painting in Classical Athens Martin Robertson, 1992. In his new book Professor Martin Robertson, author of A History of Greek Art CUP 1975 and A Shorter History of Greek Art CUP 1981, draws together the results of a lifetime's study of Greek vase painting, tracing the history of figure drawing on Athenian pottery from the invention of the red figure technique in the later archaic period to the abandonment of figured vase decoration two hundred years later. The book covers red figure and also work produced over the same period in the same workshops in black figure and other techniques, especially that of drawing in outline on a white ground. The book is intended as a companion volume to Sir John Beazley's The Development of Attic Black Figure, originally published in 1951 by California University Press, and as an examination and defence of Beazley's methods and achievements. This book is a major contribution to the history of Greek vase painting and anyone seriously interested in the subject, whether scholar, student, curator, collector, or amateur, will find it essential reading.

Greek and Roman Actors P. E. Easterling, Edith Hall, 2002-09-26. This collection of twenty essays examines the art, profession, and idea of the actor in Greek and Roman antiquity and has been commissioned and arranged to cast as much interdisciplinary and transhistorical light as possible on these elusive but fascinating ancient professionals. It covers a chronological span from the sixth century BC to Byzantium and even beyond, to the way that ancient actors have influenced the arts from the Renaissance to the twentieth century, and stresses the huge geographical spread of ancient actors. Some essays focus on particular themes, such as the evidence for women actors or the impact of acting on the presentation of suicide in literature; others offer completely new evidence, such as graffiti relating to actors in Asia Minor; others ask new questions, such as what subjective experience can be reconstructed for the ancient actor. There are numerous illustrations, and all Greek and Latin passages are translated.
