Studies In Pakistani Culture An International Perspective:

Studies in Pakistani Culture M. Siddiq Kalim, 2001 International Perspectives on Citizenship, Education and Religious Diversity Robert Jackson, 2003-09-02

Citizenship is high on the agenda of education systems in many of the world's democracies. As yet, however, discussions of citizenship education have neglected issues of religious diversity and how the study of religions can contribute to our understanding of citizenship. International Perspectives on Citizenship Education and Religious Diversity brings together an international range of contributions from religious studies scholars and educators specialising in the study of religions. Together these illustrate and explore the key questions for educational theory and pedagogy raised by drawing issues of religious diversity into citizenship education. The chapters address and extend debates over the nature of citizenship in late modernity, highlighting local and global dimensions of citizenship in relation to issues of national, religious, ethnic and cultural identity. As well as emphasising the role religious education has to play in citizenship education, this book also covers wider issues such as state supported faith schools and cultural diversity in relation to common citizenship. The authors argue that critical yet reflective approaches to religious education have a distinctive and valuable contribution to make to citizenship education. Issues addressed within the study of religions are related to new forms of global and cultural citizenship, as well as citizenship within the nation state. Ultimately, this stimulating and original collection highlights the challenges and possibilities for teaching and learning about religion, religions and religious diversity within an inclusive educational practice.

International Perspectives on Child and Adolescent Mental Health N. Singh, Dee Pang, A. Singh, 2000-06-01

There has been a major shift in the way we conceptualize and provide services to children and adolescents with mental health needs. We are moving away from the traditional disorder oriented model of treatment to a child centered, family focused service delivery system that mandates mental health services in the context of the child's family and social ecology. This new system of care has spawned many variations of the model, including wraparound services, multisystemic treatment, MST, futures planning and person centred planning. As systems of care are different across countries and cultures, it is imperative that we share our knowledge and make explicit the lessons we have learned in our attempts to provide services to children and adolescents which focus on improving their quality of life rather than merely treating their psychiatric disorders and psychological problems There is an urgent need to evaluate the various treatments being offered to children and adolescents with mental health needs Empirical data on outcomes will determine the funding and delivery of services As such the latest research on treatment outcomes needs to be disseminated so that new and validated treatment methods can be implemented rapidly
