Study Of Political Commitment:

HIV Scale-Up and the Politics of Global Health Nora Kenworthy, Richard Parker, 2017-10-02 The global expansion of HIV programming HIV scale up and the growth of global health in the past decade reshaped politics power civic relations and citizen subjectivities in countries across the globe This book draws on interdisciplinary research from numerous sites in the Global South to examine the political dimensions of HIV and global health programming The chapters reflect extensive methodological diversity and geographic range yet exhibit striking resonance with the book s core themes Collectively the authors paint a complex global portrait of a unique period in the social history of HIV as the pandemic enters its fourth decade and the global response reaches its peak The book contemplates scale up and subsequently scale down as an object of analysis and an historical shift in the politics of response to global crisis Ultimately HIV AIDS campaigns provide a template for the broader expansion of global health projects and institutions These transnational shifts and expansions necessitate further critical evaluations across social science and public health disciplines By collecting diverse perspectives on the political legacies of HIV and global health this book provides a unique history of the present cataloguing emerging practices and policies that will have long term social impacts This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Public Health

Methods of Social Research, 4th Edition Kenneth Bailey, 2008-06-30 An introduction for undergraduates to every stage of sociological research showing how to deal effectively with typical problems they might encounter The book is fully updated to include examples from the LA riots and the 1992 presidential elections

OECD Multi-level Governance Studies Subnational Public-Private Partnerships Meeting Infrastructure Challenges OECD, 2018-11-12 This report focuses on the challenges of governing infrastructure investment and public private partnerships PPPs at the subnational level Subnational governments cities and regions play a vital role in the infrastructure landscape

Problems and Methods in the Study of Politics Ian Shapiro, Rogers M. Smith, Tarek E. Masoud, 2004-09-09 The study of politics seems endlessly beset by debates about method At the core of these debates is a single unifying concern should political scientists view themselves primarily as scientists developing ever more sophisticated tools and studying only those phenomena to which such tools may fruitfully be applied Or should they instead try to illuminate the large complicated untidy problems thrown up in the world even if the chance to offer definitive explanations is low Is there necessarily a tension between these two endeavours Are some domains of political inquiry more amenable to the building up of reliable scientific knowledge than others and if so how should we deploy our efforts In this book some of the world s most prominent students of politics offer original discussions of these pressing questions eschewing narrow methodological diatribes to explore what political science is and how political scientists should aspire to do their work

The Search for Political Community Paul Lichterman, 1996-09-19 This book challenges the myth that Americans emphasis on personal fulfilment necessarily weakens commitment to the common good Drawing on extensive participant observation with a variety of environmentalist groups

Paul Lichterman argues that individualism sometimes enhances public political commitment and that a shared respect for individual inspiration enables activists with diverse political backgrounds to work together This personalised culture of commitment has sustained activists working long term for social change The book contrasts personalised politics in mainly white environmental groups with a more traditional community centred culture of commitment in an African American group The untraditional personalised politics of many recent social movements invites us to rethink common understandings of commitment community and individualism in a post traditional world Politics and the Individual in France 1930-1950

Jessica Wardhaugh,2017-07-05 The crises and conflicts of mid century Europe highlight the fragility of individual life and commitment Yet this was a time at which individuals engaged in politics on an unprecedented scale whether in movements parties and street politics through culture or by the choices confronted in war and occupation Focusing on France and bringing together historians of politics literature philosophy art and film this volume sheds new light on the imagination and experience of the political individual in the age of the masses From a controversial art exhibition on Algeria to the private diary of a Jewish lawyer in Occupied Paris these case studies illuminate the specificities of French ideas and experiences in mid century Europe They also contribute to a deeper understanding of memory agency and responsibility in times of crisis

Lifetimes of Commitment Molly Andrews,1991-05-31 Explores the ways in which political belief is developed and sustained throughout the course of a lifetime Through interviews it focuses on the lives of 15 British men and women aged between 70 and 90 who have dedicated half a century or longer to working for social change and justice Pre-tsarist and

Tsarist Central Asia Paul Georg Geiss,2004-11-23 This study written from the perspective of political sociology represents the first comparative examination of Central Asian communal and political organisation before and after the tsarist conquest of the region It covers Turkman Kyrgyz Kazakh and other tribal societies analyses the patrimonial state structures of the Emirate of Bukhara and the Khanates of Khiva and Khokand and discusses the impacts of the established tsarist civil military administration on communal and political orientations of the Muslim population Methods of Social Research

Kenneth D.
