Super Natural Christians How We Should Love Nature:

Super, Natural Christians Sallie McFague, A former dean at Vanderbilt University's Divinity School Sallie McFague calls Christians down to earth In a readable and available style alive with concrete imagery and autobiographical material McFague crafts a Christian spirituality centered on nature as the focus and locus of our encounter with the divine She helps us see all life as created in the image of God

The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-11-09 Ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the book's essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part I will explore

T&T Clark Handbook of Christian Theology and Climate Change Hilda P. Koster, Ernst M. Conradie, 2019-12-12 The T these essays are critically engaged by respondents situated in other geographic regions minority communities non Christian traditions or non theological disciplines Structured in seven main parts the handbook explores 1 the need for collaboration with disciplines outside of Christian theology to address climate change 2 the need to find common moral ground for such collaboration 3 the difficulties posed by collaborating with other Christian traditions from within 4 the questions that emerge from such collaboration for understanding the story of God's work and 5 God's identity and character 6 the implications of such collaboration for ecclesial praxis and 7 concluding reflections examining whether this volume does justice to issues of race gender class other animals religious diversity geographical divides and carbon mitigation This rich ecumenical cross cultural conversation provides a comprehensive and in depth engagement with the theological and moral challenges raised by anthropogenic climate change

Radical Kinship Rachel Wheeler, 2024-09-24 What does it mean to live in harmony with all of God's creation How might our spiritual practice contribute to the healing of this place we call home and to our own healing along the way Rachel Wheeler offers compelling testimony for the value and the life giving power of rewilding For conservationists rewilding is a strategy of human restraint of letting the wild enact ecological repair on its own terms The wild is a quality of life beyond the control of the human For

Christians a rewilding spirituality restores the life generating and life sustaining norms in which we were created to dwell

Radical Kinship A Christian Ecospirituality provides readers with both theoretical foundations for understanding a rewilded Christian spirituality for the twenty first century and practical strategies for rewilding our own lives Wheeler brings biblical foundations and the history of Christian spirituality into conversation with environmental ethics ecopsychology and ecopoetics The frameworks she constructs bring Christian spiritual tradition back to its deepest foundations not only as a product of human culture but as one shaped in large part by Christians in relationship with other than human members of the Earth community

God is Green Bob Shore-Goss,2016-10-28 At this time of climate crisis here is a practical Christian ecospirituality It emerges from the pastoral and theological experience of Reverend Robert Shore Goss who worked with his congregation by making the earth a member of the church by greening worship and by helping the church building and operations attain a carbon neutral footprint Shore Goss explores an ecospirituality grounded in incarnational compassion Practicing incarnational compassion means following the lived praxis of Jesus and the commission of the risen Christ as Gardener Jesus becomes the green face of God Restrictive Christian spiritualities that exclude the earth as an original blessing of God must expand This expansion leads to the realization that the incarnation of Christ has deep roots in the earth and the fleshly or biological tissue of life This book aims to foster ecological conversation in churches and outlines the following practices for congregations meditating on nature inviting sermons on green topics covenanting with the earth and retrieving the natural elements of the sacraments These practices help us recover ourselves as fleshly members of the earth and the network of life If we fall in love with God s creation says Shore Goss we will fight against climate change

Gratitude for the Wild Nathaniel Van Yperen,2019-06-17 Since the passage of the Wilderness Act of 1964 a hotly contested debate over the value of wilderness reveals cultural anxieties about an American society that has spurned limits Gratitude for the Wild explores how the wild known in wilderness raises our tolerance for mystery in the recognition of our limits and in the celebration of a God loved world that exceeds our grasping The idea of wilderness introduces questions about the balance between utility and appreciation and between enjoyment and restraint Wilderness is a nexus of competing and contested accounts of responsibility In conversation with the work of Doug Peacock Terry Tempest Williams James Gustafson and Martin Luther King Jr Nathaniel Van Yperen offers an original argument for how wilderness can evoke a vision of a good life in which creaturely limits are accepted in gratitude even in the face of ambiguity and mystery Through the theme of gratitude the book refocuses attention on the role of affection and testimony in ecological ethics and Christian ethics

Wilderness Mysticism: A Contemplative Christian Tradition Stephen K. Hatch,2018-07-03 As the percentage of unaffiliated seekers or Spiritual But Not Religious people or Nones increases in America and in the world at large a sizable number are drawn toward a spirituality of Nature And while many of these seekers emphasize simply the physical challenge and ignore the theological or philosophical aspect of their relationship to Nature Wilderness Mysticism seeks to offer a
