Superpower Rivalry & 3rd World Radicalism S. Neil MacFarlane, 1985 Superpower Rivalry & 3rd World Radicalism : the Idea of National Liberation Superpower Rivalry and Third World Radicalism S. Neil MacFarlane, 1985

Superpower Rivalry and 3rd World Radicalism S Neil MacFarlane, 2025-12 Originally published in 1985 this book examines the concepts underlying the notion of national liberation and compares these with Soviet and Western conceptions of political and social development in the non European world in order to determine the degree of ideological affinity between national revolutionary movements on the one hand and East or West on the other The book argues that despite the significant differences between doctrines of national liberation they display a number of basic similarities These similarities distinguish developing world thinking about national liberation in significant ways from both Soviet and Western ideas on the same subject and reflect the concern of national elites involved in liberation struggles to preserve and strengthen independence and to avoid subordination to external actors It is the author's opinion that neither East nor West was in a position to draw substantial lasting benefit from ideological affinity with national liberation movements and the regimes which they form upon taking power Superpower Rivalry and Third World Radicalism S. Neil MacFarlane, The USSR and Marxist Revolutions in the Third World Mark N. Katz, 1990 This book looks at the role the Soviet Union under Mikhail Gorbachev's leadership played in providing assistance to Marxist revolutionaries Moscow's Third World Strategy Alvin Z. Rubinstein, 2021-04-13 The description for this book Moscow's Third World Strategy will be forthcoming Towards a Global Polity Richard Higgott, Morten Ougaard, 2002-06-27 The role of law networks and civil society are examined and key theoretical and meta theoretical questions on how to analyse and theorise the global polity what drives it forward and whether it can be democratised are discussed Theory of the Global State Martin Shaw, 2000-11-30 This book first published in 2000 analyses global change which critiques modern social thought and global theory examining global democratic revolution Evolutionary Interpretations of World Politics William R. Thompson, 2016-05-06 The field of international relations is often stagnated in realism and liberalism Groundbreaking and guaranteed to stir debate this work will move the field of international relations beyond its current and often inadequate assumptions The contributors describe how states ideologies and other areas of analysis evolve conquer others or disappear entirely Change and the fluid nature of history though so clearly a part of historical reality are not so deeply embedded in other paradigms as they are in the variation and selection model of evolutionary international relations Some contributors lay out the various controversies inherent to the new theory while others apply the paradigm to specific problems in IR theory Regardless of the approach the presentation of this entirely new perspective and method succeeds in forming a new paradigm of international relations Contributors include William R Thompson George Modelski Vincent S E Falger David P Rapkin Jennifer Sterling Folker Hendrik Spruyt Stewart Patrick Paul Hensel Karen Rasler Craig N Murphy Jeffrey A Hart Sangbae and Brian Pollins

Power Politics and State Formation in the Twentieth Century Bridget Coggins, 2014-04-24 From Kurdistan to Somaliland Xinjiang to South Yemen all secessionist movements hope to secure newly independent states of their own Most will not prevail The existing scholarly wisdom provides one explanation for success based on authority and control within the nascent states With the aid of an expansive new dataset and detailed case studies this book provides an alternative account It argues that the strongest members of the international community have a decisive influence over whether today s secessionists become countries tomorrow and that most often their support is conditioned on parochial political considerations
