Supporting Citizens Initiatives:

Supporting Citizen's Initiatives Richard Holloway, 1998 This book explains the role currently played by non governmental organizations NGOs in Bangladesh and contains lessons for all those concerned with understanding the relationship between state and civil society organizations throughout the developing world European Citizens' Initiative: A Tool for Engagement and Active Citizenship Yilly Vanessa Pacheco, Dulce Lopes, 2023 This publication gathers contributions to understand better and further develop the European Citizens Initiative This participatory and agenda setting tool introduced into the Treaty of Lisbon has not yet reached its full potential of citizen engagement nor has it driven the significant policy changes initially expected Bearing this in mind the project ECI From A to Z aimed to promote the knowledge and use of the European Citizens Initiative within the higher education arena by engaging investigators and students from four different Universities University of Coimbra Georg August University of G ttingen Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Ia i and the University of Vigo to work together to share their concerns and common views on the European Union role and policies This publication describes the methodology followed and results reached under the project but more than that it is a practical toolkit for all who wish to know more about the European Citizens Initiative and how to put it in motion Citizens' Initiatives in Europe M. Setälä, T. Schiller, 2012-03-13 An exploration and analysis of the regulation and practices of citizens initiatives in eleven European democracies and the EU The contributors to this volume shed light on how citizens initiatives influence patterns of political agenda setting in representative democracies and how they can contribute to participatory democracy Citizen Initiatives and Democratic Engagement Sumona DasGupta, 2013-11-12 This book looks at a series of citizen led campaigns to provide information about and energise the institutions of local self governance in India following the 73rd and 74th Amendment Acts Staggering in their outreach and magnitude the campaigns popularly known as PEVACs Pre election Voters Awareness Campaigns reached out to huge swathes of the population particularly in rural India through a unique network that incorporated civil society organisations across the country the media and the State Election Commission itself The book journeys through the heat and dust of these extraordinary campaigns drawing from a repertoire of field reports and interviews to reflect on the significance of this experiment on deepening democracy in India In particular it analyses the methodology of the campaigns and posits that this itself became an extraordinary exercise in democratic practice indicating the shape that deliberation and dialogic practices could actually take on the field As the campaigns moved from district to district through their street plays posters pamphlets jagrut yatras candidate voter dialogues rehearsals of voting procedures setting up of information booths and participatory workshops for newly elected representatives a new dialogical experiment was born and shaped By examining these campaigns this book emphasises the idea that governance is not just the business of central federal governments but also of citizens outside the formal institutions of governance without whose active participation democracy cannot be deepened Social Cohesion and

Resilience through Citizen Engagement Frank Othengrafen, Sylvia Herrmann, Divna Pencic, Stefan Lazarevski, 2024-12-09 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 License It is free to read download and share on Elgaronline thanks to generous funding support from the German Academic Exchange Service DAAD and the German Ministry for Education and Research BMBF This incisive book examines how citizens are increasingly taking it upon themselves to change their neighbourhoods and communities becoming co producers makers and pioneers who actively participate in the design of urban spaces and spatial processes Analysing the potentials and limitations of civic engagement it discusses how such participation has led to greater cohesion of communities against changing environments Assessment Framework for People-Centred Solutions to Carbon Neutrality Sabrina Bresciani, Francesca Rizzo, Francesco Mureddu, 2024-03-16 This open access book presents a catalogue of over one thousand indicators which can be used by cities public administrators to monitor and evaluate social innovation action plans to support people centred collaborative or co designed solutions to lower carbon emissions Indicators are clustered according to a framework of social innovation solutions for climate neutrality at city level developed by merging top down academic knowledge with bottom up pragmatic case studies There is currently limited guidance on how to embed social innovations in their cities action plans with the aim of reaching climate neutrality and on how to assess the progress and impacts of such people centred projects in cities The book addresses this gap and is thus relevant for scholars in the field of policy making and design as well as cities transition teams policymakers and consultants Based on the work developed within the EU funded project NetZeroCities intervention logics are provided for each of the ten categories of action with related indicators clustered by category and evaluation criteria effectiveness efficiency relevance replicability and scalability Guidelines to implement the framework support city administrators in defining steps they need to follow to apply the indicators to their local case making social innovation a crucial lever for accelerating systemic transformation All change please! - challenges and opportunities of the energy transition Andreas Stefansky, Angelina Göb, 2022-01-27 The annual meeting of the ARLs Junges Forum forum for young professionals on 6-8 October 2016 in Leipzig addressed various aspects of the energy transition when where how and why In presentations and discussion groups they considered not only technical legal and planning aspects related to infrastructure expansion and the management and structuring of the energy transition but also its significance for spatial development The focus of the annual meeting was selected in view of the current importance of the issue The transition is a process intended to ensure a safe environmentally friendly and economically successful future and as such involves a broad spectrum of social planning and scientific challenges and opportunities that require more in depth consideration and analysis The following questions thus provided the starting points for the presentations What are the key action areas for the implementation of the energy transition How will the cities and the countryside of the future look How do the various actors behave and how do they react to different technologies Where and why do conflicts and competition emerge and how can resistance and acceptance be dealt with These key questions were the focus of the annual meeting and informed the following themes How smart is the city of the future Pole position for new form of mobility and We say no public protest in the energy transition

From Austerity to Abundance? Margaret Stout,2018-11-12 This volume explores the ways in which civil society and governments employ transformative tactics of direct engagement in coordinating efforts toward the common good Increasingly these collaborative endeavors seek to share power and break down role boundaries in the pursuit of abundant human flourishing as opposed to cost saving austerity

Handbook on public participation in the institutions of the European Union Blasi Casagran, Cristina,2019-02-25 Since 2015 Dr Blasi holds a postdoctoral fellowship at the Department of Public Law and Historical legal Sciences of the Autonomous University of Barcelona This book entitled Handbook on public participation in the institutions of the European Union explains in a structured manner all the rights and actions that EU citizens are entitled to as nationals of one of the EU Member States It also examines the rights of temporary and permanent residents coming from third countries It provides clear and accurate information about the subject Public Participation in the Institutions of the European Union and it is an essential tool for the dissemination of content and activities during the entire course

The Nordic Constitutions Helle Krunke,Björg Thorarensen,2018-08-23 This book analyses the Nordic constitutional systems of Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden in a comparative context It has two main aims first to fill a gap in the literature by providing an accessible English language account of the Nordic constitutions and second to provide a comparative analysis of them revealing their similarities and differences within their political historical and cultural contexts In this respect the book challenges the assumption that the Nordic countries form a homogeneous constitutional system due to their cultural and historical affinities a view not necessarily supported by a close comparative examination A key issue is EU membership where the Nordic countries have made different choices at different times and the book will show how this has affected the individual countries and whether a divide between EU member states Denmark Finland and Sweden and non members Iceland and Norway has appeared Another key issue is how the ECHR has impacted the Nordic constitutional systems and whether the convention draws the Nordic systems closer to each other The book represents a first of its kind in the English language and will provide constitutional scholars with a valuable comparative resource on the Nordic region
