Supremely Abominable Crimes The Trial Of The Knights Of Templar:

Supremely Abominable Crimes Edward Burman,1994 Suddenly at dawn on Friday 13 October 1307 King Philip IV of France's officials arrested the Knights Templar throughout his kingdom. It took seven years to interrogate them and sift the evidence after which the greatest of the crusading orders was abolished, its enormous wealth sequestered and its Grand Master burned at the stake. Who were the Knights Templar? How was it that these powerful and wealthy warriors found themselves vilified and accused of the most depraved crimes? To answer these questions and to unravel the mystery that has shrouded the Order ever since, Edward Burman, through contemporary sources including transcripts made by Papal notaries, provides a detailed account of the sensational three-month trial in Paris in 1310 and reflects on the background to the myths surrounding the Order which led to their arrest.

Supremely Abominable Crimes Edward Burman,1994 The Knights Templar Prof. Kenneth Onapoli, Ph.D.,2019-03-23 The Knights Templar: The Priceless Treasure Discovered. Who were the Knights Templar? Did they really exist? Did they discover treasure so valuable that King Philip IV of France was willing to kill them to obtain it? If so, what happened to the treasure? Or did they discover priceless treasure concerning Christianity which caused Pope Clement V to enlist the help of King Philip to suppress the Templars before they revealed what they had discovered and destroyed the foundation of the Papacy and its claims of universal supremacy? What was this Priceless Treasure that was discovered by the Knights Templar which was such a severe threat to the Roman Catholic Church and the Pope that they would be willing to kill the Templars over? Moreover, that men like Jacques de Molay would rather be burned at the stake than renounce? Through the research of Professor Kenneth Onapoli, the answers to all of these questions and more are finally revealed.
