Baudelaire's Poetic Patterns Peter Broome, 2023-11-27 This major new study of Baudelaire is a journey into the secret language of Les Fleurs du Mal the expressive pliancies of its verse forms and syntax the fluctuations of its rhythms its significant sonorities its metaphorical figures and dynamic image patterns its network of nerves and trigger points its shifting underground of parallels and contrasts analogies and antitheses Through a strategic selection of poems constituting a constellation a formal pattern of mutually illuminating parts the analysis aims to show that form and theme are indissoluble that each movement in the texture of the verse each pulse each rise and fall each intensification or release not only aids and abets the thrust of the poet's inspiration but is moulding and in the end creating the subtleties of sense which cannot exist but in the weft and web of the breathing evolving text It is a study which prioritizes the individual poem then the poem within an expanding formation of poems then Baudelaire within and beyond that formation an infini dans le fini It is also an enquiry into what makes poetry as well as a provocative contribution to the ongoing debate on the nature of criticism Ludics in

Surrealist Theatre and Beyond Vassiliki Rapti, 2016-05-13 Taking as its point of departure the complex question about whether Surrealist theatre exists this book re-examines the much misunderstood artistic medium of theatre within Surrealism especially when compared to poetry and painting This study reconsiders Surrealist theatre specifically from the perspective of ludics a poetics of play and games an ideal approach to the Surrealists whose games blur the boundaries between the playful and the serious Vassiliki Rapti's aims are threefold first to demystify Andr Breton's controversial attitude toward theatre second to do justice to Surrealist theatre by highlighting the unique character that derives from its inherent element of play and finally to trace the impact of Surrealist theatre in areas far beyond its generally acknowledged influence on the Theatre of the Absurd an impact being felt even on the contemporary world stage Beginning with the Surrealists one into another game and its illustration of Breton's ludic dramatic theory Rapti then examines the traces of this kind of game in the works of a wide variety of Surrealist and Post Surrealist playwrights and stage directors from several different countries and from the 1920s to the present Roger Vitrac Antonin Artaud Gnter Berghaus Nanos Valaoritis Robert Wilson and Megan Terry The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth-Century French Literature Alison James, 2020-09-03 The Documentary Imagination in Twentieth Century French Literature identifies a documentary impulse in French literature that emerges at the end of the nineteenth century and culminates in a proliferation of factual writings in the twenty first Focusing on the period bookended by these two moments it highlights the enduring concern with factual reference in texts that engage either with current events or the historical archive Specifically it considers a set of ideas and practices centered on the conceptualization and use of documents In doing so it contests the widespread narrative that twentieth century French literature abandons the realist enterprise and argues that writers instead renegotiate the realist legacy outside or at the margins of the fictional space of the novel Analyzing works by authors including Gide Breton Aragon Yourcenar Duras and Modiano the book defines a specific documentary mode of literary representation that records assembles and investigates material traces of reality The document is a textual visual or material piece of evidence repurposed through its visual insertion textual transcription or description within a literary work It is a fact but it also becomes a figure standing for literature's confrontation with the real The documentary imagination involves a fantasy of direct access to a reality that speaks for itself At the same time it gives rise to concrete textual practices that open up new directions for literature by interrogating the construction and interpretation of facts 1668 Peter Sahlins, 2017-11-09 When animals and their

symbolic representations in the Royal Menagerie in art in medicine in philosophy helped transform the French state and culture Peter Sahlins's brilliant new book reveals the remarkable and understudied animal moment in and around 1668 in which authors including La Fontaine whose Fables appeared in that year anatomists painters sculptors and especially the young Louis XIV turned their attention to nonhuman beings At the center of the Year of the Animal was the Royal Menagerie in the gardens of Versailles dominated by exotic and graceful birds In the unfolding of his original and sophisticated argument Sahlins shows how the animal bodies of the menagerie and others were critical to a dramatic rethinking of governance nature and the human The animals of 1668 helped to shift an entire worldview in France what Sahlins calls Renaissance humanimalism toward more modern expressions of classical naturalism and mechanism In the wake of 1668 came the debasement of animals and the strengthening of human animality including in Descartes's animal machine highly contested during the Year of the Animal At the same time Louis XIV and his intellectual servants used the animals of Versailles to develop and then to transform the symbolic language of French absolutism Louis XIV came to adopt a model of sovereignty after 1668 in which his absolute authority is represented in manifold ways with the bodies of animals and justified by the bestial nature of his human subjects 1668 explores and reproduces the king's animal collections in printed text weaving poetry and engraving all seen from a unique interdisciplinary perspective Sahlins brings the animals of 1668 together and to life as he observes them critically in their native habitats within the animal palace itself by Louis Le Vau the paintings and tapestries of Charles Le Brun the garden installations of Andr  Le N tre the literary work of Charles Perrault and the natural history of his brother Claude the poetry of Madeleine de Scud ry the philosophy of Ren  Descartes the engravings of Sbastien Leclerc the transfusion experiments of Jean Denis and others The author joins the nonhuman and human agents of 1668 panthers and painters swans and scientists weasels and weavers in a learned and sophisticated treatment that will engage scholars and students of early modern France and Europe and readers broadly interested in the subject of animals in human history
