Newman, 2004-12 This edition offers prospective teachers a realistic look at teaching The writing is clear and accessible The research base and documentation are the strongest on the market America's Teachers is organized around four parts Part One Teaching as an Occupation goes into depth on motives for teaching the job market teacher salaries and evaluation trends in teacher education teacher organizations and legal issues Part Two Schools and Society offers full chapters on the history philosophy sociology and politics of education emphasizing the effects of increasing cultural diversity Part Three Issues for the Twenty First Century explores the ongoing competition between public schools and private schools and analyzes trends in the curriculum particularly the drive to state standards and high stakes testing

9/11 and Collective Memory in US Classrooms Cheryl Lynn Duckworth, 2014-10-17 While current literature stresses the importance of teaching about the 9 11 attacks on the US many questions remain as to what teachers are actually teaching in their own classrooms Few studies address how teachers are using of all of this advice and curriculum what sorts of activities they are undertaking and how they go about deciding what they will do Arguing that the events of 9 11 have become a chosen trauma for the US author Cheryl Duckworth investigates how 9 11 is being taught in classrooms if at all and what narrative is being passed on to today s students about that day Using quantitative and qualitative data gathered from US middle and high school teachers this volume reflects on foreign policy developments and trends since September 11th 2001 and analyzes what this might suggest for future trends in U S foreign policy The understanding that the post 9 11 generation has of what happened and what it means is significant to how Americans will view foreign policy in the coming decades especially in the Islamic World and whether it is likely to generate war or foster peace

Pledging Allegiance Joel Westheimer, 2007 What does it mean to be patriotic in the United States after the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 And how have the prevailing notions of patriotism loudly trumpeted in the American media affected education in American schools In this spirited book renowned educational leaders and classroom practitioners answer these questions with insights opinions and hard facts They focus on critical issues related to patriotism and democracy in education including the social studies curriculum military recruitment in schools and student dissent Contributors Bill Ayers Michael Bader Robby Cohen Sharon Cook Louis Ganzler Gerald Graff Diana Hess Joseph Kahne Robert Jensen Gloria Ladson Billings Deborah Meier Ellen Middaugh Pedro Noguera Cecilia O Leary Diane Ravitch and Joel Westheimer Commentators Bill Bigelow Hector Calderon Edwin C Darden Peter Dreier Delaine Eastin Chester E Finn Jr Dick Flacks Maxine Greene Joan Kent Kvitka James W Loewen Walter Parker Charles Payne Cindy Sheehan Karen Emily Suurtamm Studs Terkel Denise Walsh What does it mean to be a democratic citizen And what kind of education produces one For the past two decades Joel Westheimer has been one of North America s most knowledgeable and able guides to these critical issues Along the way he has forced us to reconsider the larger goals and purposes of our public schools His book will provide an invaluable roadmap for anyone who asks the big questions no matter what they think of his answers Jonathan Zimmerman New York University The essays in this book come at a critical moment and should be welcomed by anyone who is concerned that the values of peace of democracy be held high by the coming generation From the Foreword by Howard Zinn author of A People s History of the United States A valuable sourcebook for those who are uncertain about what patriotism is and even more for those who are certain that they know Howard Gardner author of Five Minds for the Future By bringing together diverse and often divergent perspectives of patriotism Pledging Allegiance opens to critical scrutiny the very idea of loyalty to a country In doing so it not only offers a useful educational resource but also performs a valuable political service I can t think of many books more likely to stimulate deep reflection and spirited discussion and these activities after all are integral to democracy itself Alfie Kohn author of What Does It Mean to Be Well Educated

The Impact of 9/11 on Psychology and Education M. Morgan, 2009-11-23 The Impact of 9 11 on Psychology and Education is the fifth volume of the six volume series The Day that Changed Everything edited by Matthew J Morgan It features forewords by Robert Sternberg and Philip Zimbardo

Critical Social Issues in American Education H. Svi Shapiro, David E.

Purpel,2004-09-22 This text reader brings together powerful readings that critically situate issues of education in the context of the major cultural moral political economic ecological and spiritual crises that confront us as a nation and a global community It provides a focus and a conceptual framework for thinking about education in light of these issues Readers are exposed to the thinking of some of the best and most insightful social and educational commentators Critical Social Issues in American Education Democracy and Meaning in a Globalizing World Third Edition is intended to work on two levels First it helps readers to develop an awareness of how education is connected to the wider social structures of cultural political and economic life Second it encourages not only a critical examination of our present social reality but also a serious discussion of alternatives of what a transformed society and educational process might look like The editors goal is to deliberately engage readers in connecting the work of teachers to an ethically committed politically charged pedagogy The assumption on which they base the text is that educators must see their work as inextricably linked to the broader conflicts stresses and crises of the social world it is not otherwise possible to make sense of what is happening educationally What happens in school or as part of the educational experience reflects expresses and mediates profound questions about the direction and nature of the society we inhabit The text is organized thematically into five sections which address respectively social justice and democracy consumerism culture and public education marginality and difference moral and spiritual perspectives on education and globalization and education Each section is preceded by a brief essay that introduces the readings This Third Edition includes many new readings and addresses issues that have more recently emerged as especially significant such as concerns about the implications of globalization and the post 9 11 world commercialism violence and the ever increasing influence of high stakes testing This compelling text is relevant for a wide range of courses in educational foundations educational policy curriculum studies and multicultural education that address the social context of education cultural and political change and public policy     The Geographies of a Post-September 11th Curriculum Kathleen A.

Wiberg-Rozaklis,2005     9/11 Children's Literature Esther Man-Wah Pun,2007     The 9/11 Principal Gwendolyn Tose'-Rigell,2019-11-23 September 11 2001 was a tragic horrific day that will forever be embedded in our national consciousness Not since Pearl harbor has there been an attack on the United States with the destruction loss of life and global consequences Everyone remembers where they were on 9 11 and in this book we have this first hand account of what it was like to be at president bush s side as the awful events unfolded From the moment the first plane hit the whisper in the presidents from Andrew Card and the infamous 7 minutes Gwendolyn Tose Rigell the Principal of Emma E Booker Elementary in Sarasota FL was there She vividly recounts her memories of that terrible fateful day she begins with the logistical and security preparations for the presidents impending visit She describes her personal conversations with him the realization we are under a terrorist attack and concludes with her observations of the president s behavior and the state of our nation in the midst of a national tragedy She was at his side until the secret services whisked him away to the safety of air force one and thus as known as the 9 11 Principal

How Americans Feel about

Fear and Learning in America John Kuhn,2014 In this provocative book America s Superintendent John Kuhn lays bare the scare tactics at the root of the modern school reform movement Kuhn conveys a deeply held passion for the mission and promise of public education through his own experience as a school adminiistrator in Texas When his Alamo Letter first appeared in the Washington Post it galvanized the educational community in a call to action that was impossible to ignore This powerful book requires us to question whether the current education crisis will be judged by history as a legitimate national emergency or an agenda driven panic spurred on by a media that is for the most part uninterested in anything but useless soundbites

Teaching on Days After Alyssa Hadley Dunn,2021-12-03 What should teachers do on the days after major events tragedies and traumas especially when injustice is involved This beautifully written book features teacher narratives and youth authored student spotlights that reveal what classrooms do and can look like in the wake of these critical moments Dunn incisively argues for the importance of equitable commitments humanizing dialogue sociopolitical awareness and a rejection of so called pedagogical neutrality across all grade levels and content areas By highlighting the voices of teachers who are pushing beyond their concerns and fears about teaching for equity and justice readers see how these educators address negative reactions from parents and administrators welcome all student viewpoints and negotiate their own feelings These inspiring stories come from diverse areas such as urban New York rural Georgia and suburban Michigan from both public and private schools and from classrooms with both novice and veteran teachers Teaching on Days After can be used to support current classroom teachers and to better structure teacher education to help preservice teachers think ahead to their future classrooms Book Features Narratives from teachers and students that represent a diverse range of identities locations grade levels and content areas Examples of days after that teachers remember including 9 11 elections natural disasters gun violence police brutality social uprisings Supreme Court decisions immigration policies and more Examples of days after that K 12 and college aged students remember including what their teachers did and didn t do and how they experienced these moments Proceeds will be donated to educational non profits The Abolitionist Teaching Network and Woke Kindergarten

American Dream and Public Schools Jennifer L. Hochschild, Nathan Scovronick, 2003-03-06 The American Dream and the Public Schools examines issues that have excited and divided Americans for years including desegregation school funding testing vouchers bilingual education and ability grouping While these are all separate problems much of the contention over them comes down to the same thing an apparent conflict between policies designed to promote each student's ability to succeed and those designed to insure the good of all students or the nation as a whole The authors show how policies to promote individual success too often benefit only those already privileged by race or class and often conflict with policies that are intended to benefit everyone They propose a framework that builds on our nation's rapidly changing population in order to help Americans get past acrimonious debates about schooling Their goal is to make public education work better so that all children can succeed

Subjects of Terror Teresa A. Grettano, 2013 After 9/11 people developed narratives in order not only to create some discursive representation of the affective experience of trauma but also to claim space in the shared history of that day Now past its 10 year mark 9/11 essentially has become history even as its presence remains in our daily lives Dominant cultural narratives of victimhood and victimage of valor and victory of resolve and rebuilding have hegemonized essentially silencing alternative narratives This dissertation attempts to disrupt that hegemony and argues for the importance of doing so Through the post 9/11 discourse of terrorism the recounting of our experience through these narratives continually reconstitutes us as subjects of terror further establishing the 21st century cultural logic of trauma in the U.S. Much of the time the articulation of a subject position in post 9/11 discourse has worked purposefully to block certain conversations and force others but we can work to disrupt this process by investigating these identities in order to analyze how they are constituting meaning in our post 9/11 culture I argue at the end of this dissertation that there needs to be a more focused study of subject formation in undergraduate liberal arts education through instruction in rhetoric In particular there is a need to examine how subjectivities are constructed through mass media and governmental discourses in order to discern how these subject positions act almost as epistemologies fostering ideological stances that function as Burkean terministic screens We need to work toward developing a critical literacy that examines not only facts presented in the aftermath of 9/11 but also dispositions and subjectivities constructed through its narratives so that students can reclaim agency in their lived experience and also in their construction of their personal and cultural histories

attacks on New York City and Washington on September 11 2001 as well as the aborted attack that led to the Pennsylvania crash of United Airlines flight 93 comprised an event too traumatic to quickly set aside All the things that a nation and its people do to digest understand and in some sense recover from a cataclysm have been and are being done A cycle of action and reflection will continue for some time as events continue to unfold and the war on terrorism continues At the same time there are children to raise and to teach and it is necessary and right that they be taught about September 11th It is necessary because it is on their minds they are curious about it many are upset some were directly and painfully affected It is also right to teach about September 11th because it was one of the defining events of the age of the nation s history and of these children s lives Educators have an obligation to provide the information the analysis the conclusions and the lessons that they believe their pupils need What happened Why did it happen How should we think about it What are we doing about it What should we do about it How can we keep it from happening again But what exactly to teach what are the major lessons of September 11th that teachers should introduce to their young charges This report is compiled in response to those questions and to suggest what U S schools and educators should teach their students so that they will better understand the event its precursors and its aftermath and so that they will be better able to function as young citizens of a nation that has endured an attack and is resultantly engaged in a serious and protracted war The report seeks to buttress the civic values and enlarge the knowledge base of teachers and other educators and to redress what the introduction describes as the balance between those who would have the schools forge citizens and those who would have them focus on students own feelings and on doubts about America As the first anniversary of the September 11th attacks approached twenty three contributions were compiled to form the report in response to the question What civic lessons are the most imperative for U S K 12 teachers to teach their pupils about the United States and what it means to be an American Following an introduction by Chester E Finn Jr the essays include 1 Lessons of the Preamble John Agresto 2 Seizing This Teachable Moment William J Bennett 3 Protecting Our Precious Liberty Lynne Cheney 4 Teaching Students to Count Their Blessings William Damon 5 The Civics Lessons of September 11 Lucien Ellington 6 Hard Lessons William Galston 7 Preserving America Man s Greatest Hope Victor Davis Hanson 8 Celebrating American Freedom Kay Hymowitz 9 American Tolerance Craig Kennedy 10 Teaching Young People to Be Patriots Katherine Kersten 11 Civics Schools and September 11 Mary Beth Klee 12 An Attack upon the World Erich Martel 13 Forging Heroes Walter Russell Mead 14 Defending Democracy Jeffrey Mirel 15 Terrorism The Ism du Jour Mitchell Pearlstein 16 Seeing the Patterns Theodore Rabb 17 America Always Vulnerable Never Inevitable Richard Rodriguez 18 An Attack on Who We Are Andrew J Rotherham 19 Defining the American Identity Gloria Sesso and John Pyne 20 Alleviating Our Historical Ignorance Sheldon M Stern 21 Heroes and Victims Sandra Stotsky 22 Fighting Complacency Kenneth R Weinstein and 23 What Students Should Know about War James Q Wilson A list of recommended resources for teachers is also included
