Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II James Flood,Shirley Brice Heath,Diane Lapp,2015-04-22 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts Volume II brings together state of the art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading writing speaking and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual communicative and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young A project of the International Reading Association published and distributed by Routledge Taylor Francis Visit <http://www.reading.org> for more information about International Reading Association books membership and other services

Teaching Literacy through the Arts Nan L. McDonald,Douglas Fisher,2013-12-17 Accessible and hands on yet grounded in research this book addresses the whys and hows of integrating literacy instruction and the arts in grades K-8. Even teachers without any arts background will gain the skills they need to bring music, drama, visual arts, and dance into their classrooms. Provided are a wealth of specific resources and activities that other teachers have successfully used to build students' oral language concepts of print, phonemic awareness, vocabulary, fluency, comprehension, and writing while also promoting creativity and self-expression. Special features include reproducible worksheets and checklists for developing, evaluating, and implementing arts-related lesson plans.

Teaching Art in a Postmodern World Lee Emery, 2002. Collection of essays by Australian and English art educators discussing the transition from modernist to postmodernist art education. Teachers reflect on changes in their own teaching and discuss how they introduce students to contemporary art and plan a curriculum. Includes photos and references. Simultaneously published in PDF and paperback formats. Editor is Associate Professor in arts education at the University of Melbourne and is an honorary life member of the Australian Institute for Art Education.

For the Love of Teaching Ira D. Shull, 1998. Multicultural perspectives abound in these interview portraits of teachers from every state and setting. Any stereotypes readers may have about teachers will go right out the window as they enjoy these anecdotes that reveal the real reasons teachers teach. Seven themes emerge: life, work, connection, change, surprise, adventure, fulfillment, and love. Represented in fifty-four interviews with teachers are all fifty states plus Puerto Rico as a U.S. commonwealth, all grades, urban, suburban, and rural areas, private and public schools, and alternative settings such as military and prison classrooms. The author's questions remain hidden as the teachers in their own separate voices reflect on their work. The author notes: By listening to the voices of those who would teach us, we come to understand not only what learning means but what living means. For it is through our teachers that we begin to discover who we are as human beings and what we want to be as a society. The Foreword was written by Eric Oddleifson, a successful businessman who is also active in efforts to improve American schools. He writes: This book describes the type of person we need to attract to the teaching profession as it gives voice to the enthusiasm, the passion, the commitment that invades his or her being. There can be no finer calling requiring the clearest demonstration of moral and ethical behavior.

Embracing Child Art Barbara A. McGuire, 2011-01-15. Readers will find fresh ways to celebrate children's artistic expressions with these unique ideas from Barbara A. McGuire, author of Foundations in Polymer Clay Design and Wire in Design.
