Teaching Low Achieving And Disadvantaged Students:

Teaching Low Achieving and Disadvantaged Students Charles H. Hargis, 2006 This new edition updates and expands the previous volume and continues to reflect the concepts and the reasons behind learning and behavior problems of low achieving and disadvantaged students Through the chapters the author describes instructional levels and independent levels emphasizing that success is produced by finding the place on the curriculum for each student at these levels Details and reactions in light of events and experiences of the intervening years is examined outlining assessment procedures to separate real disabilities from school created ones and then describing the educational treatment of each Other topics include the grading system student centered curriculum an alternate perspective on testing and a changed role for the teacher

Instructional delivery systems centered on curriculum based assessment and cooperative noncompetitive learning methods are also proposed Designed for classroom teachers as well as administrators the text is the result from the author's role in working with children who are casualties of the educational system as well as his progress in helping to develop a successful alternative public high school

The SAGE Handbook for Research in Education Clifton F. Conrad, Ronald C. Serlin, 2006 Research is increasingly becoming more influential in the field of education and this Handbook brings together a range of top academic experts who represent diverse fields within and outside of education as well as quantitative qualitative and mixed method approaches to provide an up to date advanced analysis of all relevant issues involved in educational research The Handbook is written in lively welcoming prose and central to the handbook is an intention to encourage and help researchers place ideas at the epicenter of inquiry In addition explicit discussion of the fundamental challenges that researchers must consciously address throughout their inquiry are identified and solutions provided to help future researchers overcome similar obstacles

Out-of-field teaching and educational equality , Out-of-field Teaching and Educational Equality Richard M. Ingersoll, Kerry J. Gruber, 1996 This report investigated the extent to which students in public secondary schools are taught by teachers without basic qualifications in their assigned teaching fields i.e. at least a college minor in the fields they teach focusing on core academic subjects mathematics English social studies science Analysis of the study data revealed that many students are taught by out of field teachers 20 percent in English classes 25 percent in mathematics 39 percent in life science or biology 56 percent in physical sciences classes and over 50 percent in history or world civilization Low income schools had higher levels of out of field teaching than did more affluent schools schools serving predominantly minority student populations did not have higher levels of out of field teaching than did schools serving predominantly white students In several fields students in both low track and low achievement level classes were more often taught by out of field teachers than were students in high track and high achievement level classes however predominantly minority classes did not have higher levels of out of field teaching than did predominantly white classes Students in seventh and eighth grade classes were more often taught by out of field teachers than were senior high students Data tables are included Appendix A contains standard errors Appendix B lists additional resources on the 1990 91 Schools and Staffing Survey which served as the basis for the study Contains 31 references ND Teaching Resources for Low-achieving Mathematics Classes Kenneth J. Travers,1972 Learning, Marginalization, and Improving the Quality of Education in Low-income Countries Daniel A. Wagner,Nathan M. Castillo,SuzanneGrant Lewis,2022-02-21 Improving learning evidence and outcomes for those most in need in developing countries is at the heart of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal on Education SDG4 This timely volume brings together contributions on current empirical research and analysis of emerging trends that focus on improving the quality of education through better policy and practice particularly for those who need improved learning at the bottom of the pyramid LBOP This volume brings together academic research experts government officials and field based practitioners National and global experts present multiple broad thematic papers ranging from the effects of migration and improving teaching to the potential of educational technologies and better metrics for understanding and financing education In addition local experts practitioners and policymakers describe their own work on LBOP issues being undertaken in Kenya India Mexico and Ivory Coast The contributors argue persuasively that learning equity is a moral imperative but also one that will have educational economic and social impacts They further outline how achieving SDG4 will take renewed and persistent effort by stakeholders to use better measurement tools to promote learning achievement among poor and marginalized children This volume builds on the second international conference on Learning at the Bottom of the Pyramid LBOP2 It will be an indispensable resource for policymakers researchers and government thinktanks and local experts as well as any readers interested in the implementation of learning equity across the globe The first volume Learning at the Bottom of the Pyramid LBOP1 may be obtained at <http://www.iiep.unesco.org/en/learning-bottom-pyramid> 4608
