of Children's Literature Maria José Botelho, Masha Kabakow Rudman, 2009-05-07 Children's literature is a contested terrain as is multicultural education. Taken together they pose a formidable challenge to both classroom teachers and academics. Rather than deny the inherent conflicts and tensions in the field in Critical Multicultural Analysis of Children's Literature: Mirrors, Windows, and Doors, Maria José Botelho and Masha Kabakow Rudman confront, deconstruct, and reconstruct these terrains by proposing a reframing of the field. Surely all of us children's teachers and academics can benefit from this more expansive understanding of what it means to read books. Sonia Nieto. From the Foreword. Critical multicultural analysis provides a philosophical shift for teaching literature, constructing curriculum, and taking up issues of diversity and social justice. It problematizes children's literature, offers a way of reading power, explores the complex web of sociopolitical relations, and deconstructs taken-for-granted assumptions about language, meaning, reading, and literature. It is literary study as sociopolitical change. Bringing a critical lens to the study of multiculturalism in children's literature, this book prepares teachers, teacher educators, and researchers of children's literature to analyze the ideological dimensions of reading and studying literature. Each chapter includes recommendations for classroom application, classroom research, and further reading. Helpful end-of-book appendixes include a list of children's book awards, lists of publishers, diagrams of the power continuum, and the theoretical framework of critical multicultural analysis, and lists of selected children's literature journals and online resources.

Using Multicultural Literature to Teach K-4 Social Studies Barbara Edwards, J. Allen Queen, 2002. Using Multicultural Literature to Teach K-4 Social Studies: A Thematic Unit Approach will help elementary teachers creatively integrate multicultural literature with K-4 social studies instruction. Using the NCSS themes and grade-level relevancy, the authors have included an annotated bibliography of over 350 titles organized by cultural group. Study units include goals, objectives for social studies and literacy, introductory activities, sequenced lessons, and assessment activities. Stereotypes to avoid in children's literature are also discussed. A reader-friendly voice and straightforward organization make this a useful tool for any K-4 teacher.

The SAGE Guide to Curriculum in Education Ming Fang He, Brian D. Schultz, William H. Schubert, 2015-06-05. The SAGE Guide to Curriculum in Education integrates, summarizes, and explains in highly accessible form foundational knowledge and information about the field of curriculum with brief, simply written overviews for people outside of or new to the field of education. This Guide supports study, research, and instruction with content that permits quick access to basic information, accompanied by references to more in-depth presentations in other published sources. This Guide lies between the sophistication of a handbook and the brevity of an encyclopedia. It addresses the ties between and controversies over public debate, policy making, university scholarship, and school practice. While tracing complex traditions, trajectories, and evolutions of curriculum scholarship, the Guide illuminates how curriculum ideas, issues, perspectives, and possibilities can be translated into public debate, school practice, policy making, and life of the general public, focusing on the aims of education for a better human condition. 55 topical chapters are organized into four parts: Subject Matter as Curriculum Teachers as Curriculum Students as Curriculum and Milieu as Curriculum based upon the conceptualization of curriculum commonplaces by Joseph J Schwab subject matter teachers learners and milieu The Guide highlights and explicates how the four commonplaces are interdependent and interconnected in the decision making processes that involve local and state school boards and government agencies educational institutions and curriculum stakeholders at all levels that address the central curriculum questions What is worthwhile What is worth knowing needing experiencing doing being becoming overcoming sharing contributing wondering and imagining The Guide benefits undergraduate and graduate students curriculum professors teachers teacher educators parents educational leaders policy makers media writers public intellectuals and other educational workers Key Features Each chapter inspires readers to understand why the particular topic is a cutting edge curriculum topic what are the pressing issues and contemporary concerns about the topic what historical social political economic geographical cultural linguistic ecological etc contexts surrounding the topic area how the topic relevant practical and policy ramifications and contextual embodiment can be understood by theoretical perspectives and how forms of inquiry and modes of representation or expression in the topic area are crucial to develop understanding for and make impact on practice policy context and theory Further readings and resources are provided for readers to explore topics in more details Teaching Children's Literature Christine H.
