Teaching with the Norton Anthology of American Literature Marjorie Pryse, 1994 American Literature Bruce Michelson, Marjorie Pryse, 1998-05-01 Teaching with the Norton Anthology of American Literature, 6th Ed Bruce Michelson, Marjorie Pryse, 2003 Teaching with the Norton Anthology of World Literature, 2012 Teaching with the Norton Anthology of World Literature Paula S. Berggren, 2002-01-01 Teaching with the Norton Anthology of English Literature Alfred David, 1993 Richard Wright Keneth Kinnamon, 2014-11-04 African American writer Richard Wright 1908 1960 was celebrated during the early 1940s for his searing autobiography Black Boy and fiction Native Son By 1947 he felt so unwelcome in his homeland that he exiled himself and his family in Paris But his writings changed American culture forever and today they are mainstays of literature and composition classes He and his works are also the subjects of numerous critical essays and commentaries by contemporary writers This volume presents a comprehensive annotated bibliography of those essays books and articles from 1983 through 2003 Arranged alphabetically by author within years are some 8 320 entries ranging from unpublished dissertations to book length studies of African American literature and literary criticism Also included as an appendix are addenda to the author s earlier bibliography covering the years from 1934 through 1982 This is the exhaustive reference for serious students of Richard Wright and his critics Engaging Tradition, Making It New Stephanie Brown, Éva Tettenborn, 2020-12-15 Engaging Tradition Making It New offers a rich collection of fresh scholarly and pedagogical approaches to new African American literature Organized around the theme of transgression the collection focuses on those writers who challenge the reading habits and expectations of students and instructors whether by engaging themes and literary forms not usually associated with African American literature or by departing from traditional modes of approaching historical social or legal struggles Each chapter offers a specific reading of a particular novel memoir or poetry collection sometimes in concert with a second related text and suggests both a useful critical context and one or more pedagogical approaches Engaging Tradition Making It New points the way toward exciting new methods of teaching and researching authors in this dynamic field Centenary Reflections on Mark Twain's No. 44, the Mysterious Stranger Joseph Csicsila, Chad Rohman, 2009 In this first book on No 44 in thirty years thirteen especially commissioned essays by some of today s most accomplished Twain scholars cover an array of topics from domesticity and transnationalism to race and religion and reflect a variety of scholarly and theoretical approaches to the work This far reaching collection considers the status of No 44 within Twain s oeuvre as they offer cogent insights into such broad topics as cross culturalism pain and redemption philosophical paradox and comparative studies of the Mysterious Stranger manuscripts All of these essays attest to the importance of this late work in Twain s canon whether considering how Twain s efforts at truth telling are premeditated and shaped by his own experiences tracing the biblical and religious influences that resonate in No 44 or exploring the text s psychological dimensions Several address its importance as a culminating work in which Twain s seemingly disjointed story lines coalesce in meaningful albeit not always satisfactory ways An afterword by Alan Gribben traces the critical history of the Mysterious Stranger manuscripts and the contributions of previous critics A wide ranging critical introduction and a comprehensive bibliography on the last century of scholarship bracket the contributions Close inspection of this multidimensional novel shows how Twain evolved as a self conscious thinker and humorist and that he was a more conscious artist throughout his career than has been previously thought Centenary Reflections deepens our understanding of one of Twain s most misunderstood texts confirming that the author of No 44 was a pursuer of an elusive truth that was often as mysterious a stranger as Twain himself

The Cambridge History of American Poetry Alfred Bendixen,Stephen Burt,2014-10-27 The Cambridge History of American Poetry offers a comprehensive exploration of the development of American poetic traditions from their beginnings until the end of the twentieth century Bringing together the insights of fifty distinguished scholars this literary history emphasizes the complex roles that poetry has played in American cultural and intellectual life detailing the variety of ways in which both public and private forms of poetry have met the needs of different communities at different times The Cambridge History of American Poetry recognizes the existence of multiple traditions and a dramatically fluid canon providing current perspectives on both major authors and a number of representative figures whose work embodies the diversity of America s democratic traditions Instructor`s Guide for The Heath of American Literature Paul Lauter,1998 Social Constructionist Identity Politics and Literary Studies S. Gupta,2007-01-10 This study presents a critique of social constructionist identity politics which is distinguished from specific identity based political positions from within and with social constructionist commitments Gupta examines the institutionalization of social constructionist identity politics in literary studies considering the notions of canonicity The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 The Mind and its Stories Patrick Colm Hogan,2003-09-29 There are profound extensive and surprising universals in literature which are bound up with universals in emotion Hogan maintains that debates over the cultural specificity of emotion are misdirected because they have ignored a vast body of data that bear directly on the way different cultures imagine and experience emotion literature This is the first empirically and cognitively based discussion of narrative universals Professor Hogan argues that to a remarkable degree the stories people admire in different cultures follow a limited number of patterns and that these patterns are determined by cross culturally constant ideas about emotion In formulating his argument Professor Hogan draws on his extensive reading in world literature experimental research treating emotion and emotion concepts and methodological principles from the contemporary linguistics and the philosophy of science He concludes with a discussion of the relations among narrative emotion concepts and the biological and social components of emotion Teaching with the Norton Anthology of English Literature, Fifth Edition M.
