The Art of Teaching Art Deborah A. Rockman, 2000-11-09 Often the finest artists do not make the best teachers Many frustrated college students of art know this all too well as they suffer through unstructured classes with inexperienced teachers or graduate student instructors In these situations it is easy to blame the teachers But the problem is largely institutional most students graduating with MFAs from art schools receive little if any instruction in teaching art If you find yourself in this predicament as teacher or student this book is for you The first book to provide a comprehensive guide for teaching college level art The Art of Teaching Art is the culmination of respected artist and instructor Deborah Rockman s two decades of teaching experience Believing that drawing is the backbone of all of the visual arts she begins with a complete explanation of drawing concepts that apply to any subject matter e g composition sighting processes scaling techniques and methods for linear and tonal development She then illustrates these concepts with step by step methods that easily translate to classroom exercises Next she applies the drawing principles to every artist s most important and challenging subject the human figure After an extended section on understanding and teaching perspective that explores illusionistic form and space the focus of the book shifts to the studio classroom itself and the essential elements that go into making an effective learning environment and curriculum From preparing materials lists and syllabi to setting up still lifes handling difficult classroom situations critiquing and grading student artworks and shooting slides of student artworks she leaves no stone unturned Teaching Art to Young facilitates Provides insight into how teachers can support children to consider contemporary challenges that face their generation Includes expert voices from the world of education to demonstrate an expansive and perhaps surprising view of where and how the Arts can be found Shows how we can bring the arts so easily into our curriculum and into our classrooms

Art Teaching George Szekely, Julie Alsip Bucknam, 2013-06-17 Art Teaching speaks to a new generation of art teachers in a changing society and fresh art world Comprehensive and up to date it presents fundamental theories principles creative approaches and resources for art teaching in elementary through middle school Key sections focus on how children make art why they make art the unique qualities of children s art and how artistic development can be encouraged in school and at home Important aspects of curriculum development integration evaluation art room management and professional development are covered A wide range of art media with sample art activities is included Taking the reader to the heart of the classroom this practical guide describes the realities challenges and joys of teaching art discusses the art room as a zone for creativity and illustrates how to navigate in a school setting in order to create rich art experiences for students Many textbooks provide information this book also provides inspiration Future and practicing teachers are challenged to think about every aspect of art teaching and to begin formulating independent views and opinions Art in Education D.

Atkinson, 2002 Distinctive and unique in its approach this book opens up art education to the broader field of social enquiry into practice subjectivity and identity It draws upon important developments in contemporary philosophy and the social sciences and applies this to the professional field of art in education It opens new perspectives for teachers teacher educators and student teachers Teaching Art and Design 3-11 Sue Cox, Robert Watts, 2016-08-25 Whether you are beginning a teacher education course or embarking on a career in teaching this introductory textbook provides comprehensive information on how to meet the standards for the effective teaching of art and design in foundation and primary settings The authors offer comprehensive guidance on everything from reflecting on your own subject knowledge as a teacher to organizing the classroom planning your lessons using a variety of art processes and using artists work in your teaching Crossing Boundaries: The Journey from Teacher to Teaching Artist Purnima Ruanglertbutr, 2012-11-01

Crossing Boundaries The Journey from Teacher to Teaching Artist is an exhibition curated by Purnima Ruanglertbutr Crossing Boundaries displays more than sixty works of art by twenty seven secondary school Visual Art teachers who have recently graduated from the Master of Teaching Secondary Art program at the University of Melbourne In addition to a wide range of eclectic artworks across multiple mediums this catalogue comprises succinct and informative commentaries on the role that art making plays in the graduates teaching These are special insights Visual Art teachers are educators who carry the expectation that to be good in the classroom they should have a vibrant private practice that in order to teach it they also have to prove that they can do it But through their works of art and artist statements the participants in this exhibition question their practice and expose themselves to continued examination and critique The commentaries reveal the graduates exhibit professional identities that amalgamate both the roles of an artist and a teacher through a re framing of the teacher of art as an artist teacher or a teaching artist The foreword by Art Education Australia Art Education Victoria and the introduction by the curator explores the term teaching artist within the context of the exhibition that teaching artists boast a hybrid identity fusing the roles of teacher and artist an identity that conflates two distinct professions and is successful because the artist teacher brings practitioner skills in both professions Why Art Cannot Be Taught James

Elkins,2001-05-17 He also addresses the phenomenon of art critiques as a microcosm for teaching art as a whole and dissects real life critiques highlighting presuppositions and dynamics that make them confusing and suggesting ways to make them more helpful Elkins s no nonsense approach clears away the assumptions about art instruction that are not borne out by classroom practice For example he notes that despite much talk about instilling visual acuity and teaching technique in practice neither teachers nor students behave as if those were their principal goals He addresses the absurdity of pretending that sexual issues are absent from life drawing classes and questions the practice of holding up great masters and masterpieces as models for students capable of producing only mediocre art He also discusses types of art including art that takes time to complete and art that isn t serious that cannot be learned in studio art classes Teaching Artist

Handbook, Volume One Nick Jaffe,Becca Barniskis,Barbara Hackett Cox,2015-02-04 Teaching Artist Handbook is based on the premise that teaching artists have the unique ability to engage students as fellow artists In their schools and communities teaching artists put high quality art making at the center of their practice and open doors to powerful learning across disciplines This book is a collection of essays stories lists examples dialogues and ideas all offered with the aim of helping artists create and implement effective teaching based on their own expertise and strengths The Handbook addresses three core questions What will I teach How will I teach it and How will I know if my teaching is working It also recognizes that teaching is a dynamic process that requires critical reflection and thoughtful adjustment in order to foster a supportive artistic environment Instead of offering rigid formulas this book is centered on practice the actual doing and making of teaching artist work Experience based and full of heart the Teaching Artist Handbook will encourage artists of every experience level to create an original and innovative practice that inspires students and the artist
