This Day in Sports History Ray G. Claveran, I have been an avid sports fan since the 1950s Prior to the 60s I played in high school and two years of college basketball and was on the college golf team Today I am a life member of the PGA of America So I can say that I have had a love affair with sports I truly believe that true honest and fair competition in sports build character To compete in any sporting event and to win fair and square is something to be proud of If you did not win fairly then there is nothing to be proud of If you did not win fairly you did not win you lost You should never accept first place if you know it belongs to another RAY G CLAVERAN

Methodology in Sports History Wray Vamplew, Dave Day, 2018-12-07 The process of converting the past into history involves engagement with a multitude of different sources and methods and sports historians inevitably participate in the same debates over approaches and methodologies as their counterparts in other historical disciplines At its heart history remains a genre of empirical knowledge that is based upon the remains of the past and without suitable evidence there can be no sports history A burgeoning range of sources has stimulated new ways of thinking and a significant expansion in the sports historian s evidentiary base as textual sources have been supplemented by photos films and cartoons uniforms architecture maps and landscapes and material culture more generally This book deals with some of these innovations It is divided into two sections the first offering chapter length studies of particular methodologies and the second brief responses from experts in their fields to the question what can sports historians learn from other disciplines
