Art and the Home Imogen Racz,2015-01-26 Our homes contain us but they are also within us They can represent places to be ourselves to recollect childhood memories or to withdraw into adult spaces of intimacy they can be sites for developing rituals family relationships and acting out cultural expectations Like the personal social and cultural elements out of which they are constructed homes can be not only comforting but threatening too The home is a rich theme running through post war western art and it continues to engage contemporary artists today yet it has been the subject of relatively little critical writing Art and the Home Comfort Alienation and the Everyday is the first single authored up to date book on the subject Imogen Racz provides a theme led discussion about how the physical experience of the dwelling space and the psychological complexities of the domestic are manifested in art focusing mainly on sculpture installation and object based practice discussing the work and ideas of artists as diverse as Louise Bourgeois Gordon Matta Clark George Segal and Cornelia Parker within their artistic and cultural contexts Hunter-trader-trapper ,1919 Art for the Millions Allison Rudnick,2023-09-05 American art in the 1930s intertwined with the political social and economic tumult of an era not so unlike our own engaged with the public amid global upheaval This publication examines the search for artistic identity in the United States from the stock market crash of 1929 that began the Great Depression to the closure of the Works Progress Administration in 1943 with a focus on the unprecedented dissemination of art and ideas brought about by new technology and government programs During this time of civil economic and social unrest artists transmitted political ideas and propaganda through a wide range of media including paintings and sculptures but also journals prints textiles postcards and other objects that would have been widely collected experienced or encountered Insightful essays discuss but go beyond the era's best known creators such as Thomas Hart Benton Walker Evans Marsden Hartley and Georgia O'Keeffe to highlight artists who have received little scholarly attention including women and artists of color as well as designers and illustrators Emphasizing the contributions of the Black Popular Front and Leftist movements while acknowledging competing visions of the country through the lenses of race gender and class Art for the Millions is a timely look at art in the United States made by and for its people

Vistas de España Mary Elizabeth Boone, 2007-01-01 In the decades following the American Civil War and leading up to the First World War a definitive shift in power took place between Spain and the United States This original book explores American artists' perceptions of Spain during this period of turmoil and demonstrates how their responses to Spanish art helped to answer emerging complex questions about American national identity M Elizabeth Boone focuses on works by Thomas Eakins Mary Cassatt William Merritt Chase John Singer Sargent Robert Henri and other American artists who traveled to Spain to study the achievements of such great masters as Murillo Velázquez and Goya The resulting American paintings some well known and others now largely forgotten provide intriguing insights not only into the 19th century American struggle to define itself as an imperial power but also into the relations between the United States and the Spanish speaking world today
