Snowling, 2013-12-04 Developing Reading Comprehension In recent years the debate about teaching young children to read has tended to focus upon equipping them with the crucially important knowledge and skills they need to read words accurately in and out of context that is to say teaching them how the alphabet works for reading and spelling While such knowledge and skills are essential more is required for children to become literate fluent readers who understand what they read In short the goal of reading is comprehension This book scrupulously examines the obstacles to reading comprehension and exemplifies what can be done to help children overcome them It is an important and timely contribution to securing high quality teaching of the range of attributes children need to become fully fledged readers Sir Jim Rose CBE The studies by Professors Charles Hulme and Maggie Snowling and their team over two decades based around the Reading Intervention Programme are the most sustained comprehensive and rigorous research series on reading yet conducted in the UK Their increasing focus on children who experience the most difficulty in reading is exactly where attention should be directed This volume summarises the team s achievements to date and is most eagerly awaited Greg Brooks Emeritus Professor of Education University of Sheffield Member of European High Level Group of Experts on Literacy Developing Reading Comprehension presents a landmark study from the top research team in the UK on how to improve reading comprehension It s an exemplary masters level textbook written with undergraduate level lucidity and approachability Colin Harrison Emeritus Professor of Literacy Studies in Education University of Nottingham A significant minority of children aged 7 11 despite being able to read fluently and accurately have difficulty extracting meaning from text This detailed guide offers three evidence based intervention programmes drawn from the cutting edge of educational psychology for improving the reading skills of children in this group It includes a definitive introduction to the characteristics of the poor comprehender profile and explains how to monitor and assess students experiences and learning outcomes With invaluable strategies for teachers psychologists and special educational needs coordinators the book will help professionals to support learners in their efforts to explore the full richness of language and to read with real understanding

Mathematical Models of Tumor-Immune System Dynamics Amina Eladdadi, Peter Kim, Dann Mallet, 2014-11-06 This collection of papers offers a broad synopsis of state of the art mathematical methods used in modeling the interaction between tumors and the immune system These papers were presented at the four day workshop on Mathematical Models of Tumor Immune System Dynamics held in Sydney Australia from January 7th to January 10th 2013 The workshop brought together applied mathematicians biologists and clinicians actively working in the field of cancer immunology to share their current research and to increase awareness of the innovative mathematical tools that are applicable to the growing field of cancer immunology Recent progress in cancer immunology and advances in immunotherapy suggest that the immune system plays a fundamental role in host defense against tumors and could be utilized to prevent or cure cancer Although theoretical and experimental studies of tumor immune system dynamics have a long history there are still many unanswered questions about the mechanisms that govern the interaction between the immune system and a growing tumor The multidimensional nature of these complex interactions requires a cross disciplinary approach to capture more realistic dynamics of the essential biology The papers presented in this volume explore these issues and the results will be of interest to graduate students and researchers in a variety of fields within mathematical and biological sciences
