Sociology Of Aging A Social Problems Perspective:

The Sociology of Aging Duane A. Matcha, 1997 Using a sociological perspective book examines how aging is a social construct rather than a specific chronological age or set of conditions KEYTOPICS Covers all facets of aging and how aging is a consequence of various social structural factors rather than a cause Sociology of Aging Duane A. Matcha, 2009-02 MySearchLab provides students with a complete understanding of the research process so they can complete research projects confidently and efficiently Students and instructors with an internet connection can visit www.MySearchLab.com and receive immediate access to thousands of full articles from the EBSCO ContentSelect database In addition MySearchLab offers extensive content on the research process itself including tips on how to navigate and maximize time in the campus library a step by step guide on writing a research paper and instructions on how to finish an academic assignment with endnotes and bibliography Using a sociological perspective book examines how aging is a social construct rather than a specific chronological age or set of conditions Covers all facets of aging and how aging is a consequence of various social structural factors rather than a cause Investigating Social Problems A. Javier Trevino, 2024-05-16 General Editor A Javier Trevino working with a panel of experts thoroughly examines all aspects of social problems providing a contemporary and authoritative introduction to the field Each chapter is written by a specialist on that particular topic This unique contributed format ensures that the research examples and theories described are the most current and relevant available The text is framed around three major themes intersectionality the interplay of race ethnicity class and gender the global scope of many problems and how researchers take an evidence based approach to studying problems Perspectives on the Future of the Sociology of Aging Panel on New Directions in Social Demography, Social Epidemiology, and the Sociology of Aging, Committee on Population, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Research Council, 2013-02-14 The population of the United States is growing inexorably older With birth rates historically low and life expectancy continuing to rise the age distribution of the population in the United States is growing steadily older This demographic shift is occurring at a time of major economic and social changes which have important implications for the growing elderly population Other changes such as the move away from defined benefit toward defined contribution retirement plans changes in some corporate and municipal pension plans as a result of market pressures and the 2008 financial crisis precipitated by the crash of the housing market all have economic implications for older people They are also likely to make it more difficult for certain groups of future retirees to find their retirements at the level that they had planned and would like To deal effectively with the challenges created by population aging it is vital to first understand these demographic economic and social changes and to the extent possible their causes consequences and implications Sociology offers a knowledge base a number of useful analytic approaches and tools and unique theoretical perspectives that can be important aids to this task The Panel on New Directions in Social Demography Social Epidemiology and the Sociology of Aging was established in August 2010 under the auspices of the Committee on Population of the National Research Council to prepare a report that evaluates the recent contributions of social demography social epidemiology and sociology to the study of aging and seeks to identify promising new research in these fields Perspectives on the Future of the Sociology of Aging provides candid and critical comments that will assist the institution in making the final published volume as sound as possible and to ensure that the volume meets institutional standards for objectivity evidence and responsiveness to the study charge Social Work Practice with the Elderly Marvin David Feit, Michael J.

Holosko, 2004 The third edition describes significant practice issues and challenges facing gerontological social workers working with the fastest growing demographic cohort in North America Insightful and creative practitioners provide current accounts and case examples from their work in a variety of settings The material includes both micro and macro practice and offers a focus on advanced specialty practice while also providing an advanced generalist model All the chapters have been rewritten and updated by adding related additional readings and websites Six new chapters have been added on sensory impairment HIV AIDS elder abuse community assisted living rural elderly retirement and volunteerism Social Work Practice with the Elderly offers an exciting collection of well crafted readings and will be useful for any social work student at the undergraduate or graduate level It will also be a valuable resource for those in other helping professions who work side by side with social workers in this field nurses physiotherapists music and art therapists psychologists physicians recreational therapists speech and language therapists and clergy Handbook of Sociology of Aging Richard A. Settersten,

Jr., Jacqueline L. Angel, 2011-05-11 The Handbook of Sociology of Aging is the most comprehensive engaging and up to date treatment of developments within the field over the past 30 years The volume represents an indispensable source of the freshest and highest standard scholarship for scholars policy makers and aging professionals alike The Handbook of Sociology of Aging contains 45 far reaching chapters authored by nearly 80 of the most renowned experts on the most pressing topics related to aging today With its recurring attention to the social forces that shape human aging and the social consequences and policy implications of it the contents will be of interest to everyone who cares about what aging means for individuals families and societies The chapters of the Handbook of Sociology of Aging illustrate the field's extraordinary breadth and depth which has never before been represented in a single volume Its contributions address topics that range from foundational matters such as classic and contemporary theories and methods to topics of longstanding and emergent interest such as social diversity and inequalities social relationships social institutions economies and governments social vulnerabilities public health and care arrangements The volume closes with a set of personal essays by senior scholars who share their experiences and hopes for the field and an essay by the editors that provides a roadmap for the decade ahead The Handbook of Sociology of Aging showcases the very best that sociology has to offer the study of human aging The Encyclopedia of Aging Linda S. General Concepts in Ophthalmology in the Geriatric Population, Vision Loss, Comorbidities and Low Vision Approach Erdem Dursun, 2024-03-14 Dear Colleagues Books are the cornerstones of learning knowledge Writing a book is an important responsibility in this period when technology and medicine are rapidly developing What is written today may become obsolete within to 5 10 years Therefore the information must be updated at certain intervals It is no longer possible to achieve rapid changes with a single author to cover all subjects This work with 7 authors is a product of team spirit labor and effort The editors motivated a group of writers who had the power and opportunity to write but could not make it happen The author improved his ability to learn to teach and the reader learned the subject he did not know before In this manner learning is achieved by both parties The information acquired will become skilled over time with experience and repetition Love and knowledge grow as they become shared I hope that this book which we have introduced to world medicine will lead to the preparation of many new works in the future Editor Asst Prof Erdem DURSUN K r kkale 2024
