Sound And The Fury An Anecdotal History Of:

The Sound and the Fury Warner Troyer, 1980 The Beatles in Canada: The Origins of Beatlemania! Piers Hemmingsen, 2016-04-11 By the spring of 1964 Toronto had the largest and most organized Beatles fan base in North America The Beatles in Canada The Origins of Beatlemania finally tells the true story of how The Beatles music and popularity began in Canada a full year before they landed in the U S A Piers Hemmingsen provides a concise look at how radio stations newspapers and television networks in Canada covered the phenomenon that was Beatlemania and this digital edition is packed with full colour images of the band their travels those they inspired and an immense hoard of memorabilia gathered along the way After all these years I still cannot comprehend where Piers gets his energy supply from He has written four previous books about The Beatles and discovered an appreciative readership for all of them However to me this book the one you are holding is his breakthrough Where it could have been an easy exercise with new information about the Fab Four Piers has taken one large step forward He is also able to incorporate the beginnings of the Canadian music industry Through mainly focusing on one record company he has been able to capture the excitement of a young industry finding its way competing with the giants in the United States Paul White Capitol Records of Canada 1957 1978 Encyclopedia of Radio 3-Volume Set Christopher H. Sterling, 2004-03 Produced in association with the Museum of Broadcast Communications in Chicago the Encyclopedia of Radio includes more than 600 entries covering major countries and regions of the world as well as specific programs and people networks and organizations regulation and policies audience research and radio s technology This encyclopedic work will be the first broadly conceived reference source on a medium that is now nearly eighty years old with essays that provide essential information on the subject as well as comment on the significance of the particular person organization or topic being examined Documentary Television in Canada David Hogarth, 2002-04-22 He concludes with a discussion of the recent international success of documentary television as one of Canada s leading cultural exports examining the effects of globalization and looking forward to the future of this genre While principally an overview of the last half century and an analysis of current conditions Documentary Television in Canada also includes detailed analysis of selected programs such as the For the Record series on schizophrenia Warrendale by Allan King Images of Canada by Vincent Tovell The Valour and The Horror episode Death by Moonlight and Shooting Indians by Ali Kazimi among others Communication And The Transformation Of Economics Robert E Babe, 2018-10-08 This book proposes that infusing mainline economics with more expansive and realistic conceptions of information communication transforms static neoclassicism into evolutionary political economy It results in modes of analysis that when applied through policy can lead to a sustainable future The Diva & the Rancher Jennifer Hamblin, David Finch, 2006 Big dreams dashed hopes and romance are at the heart of this biography of Norma and George Pocatererra The story begins in 1903 when George Pocatererra left Italy and came to the Canadian Rockies with hopes of striking it rich George is best known for establishing the

Buffalo Head Ranch in the foothills of Alberta He developed a close friendship with members of the Stoney Indians and was one of the first non Natives to explore much of what is now called Kananaskis Country In 1933 he returned to Italy where he met and fell in love with Norma Piper a young Calgary singer who had moved to Italy to study opera They eventually married and George took over the management of Norma s rising operatic career World War II forced a return to Canada in 1939 In Calgary Norma became part of the local music scene giving concerts and teaching singing at Mount Royal College In 1955 she started her own studio and over the next 25 years became one of Calgary s most loved music teachers George meanwhile continued with his coal mining ventures although he suffered bitter disappointments Drawing on personal diaries and correspondence the authors have created an intimate portrait of these remarkable Albertans who became each in their own way legends in their lifetimes

When Television was Young Paul Rutherford,1990-01-01 A decade after the first Canadian telecasts in September 1952 TV had conquered the country Why was the little screen so enthusiastically welcomed by Canadians Was television in its early years more innovative less commercial and more Canadian than current offerings In this study of what is often called the golden age of television Paul Rutherford has set out to dispel some cherished myths and to resurrect the memory of a noble experiment in the making of Canadian culture He focuses on three key aspects of the story The first is the development of the national service including the critical acclaim won by Radio Canada the struggles of the CBC s English service to provide mass entertainment that could compete with the Hollywood product and the effective challenge of private television to the whole dream of public broadcasting The second deals with the wealth of made in Canada programming available to please and inform viewers even commercials receive close attention Altogether Rutherford argues Canadian programming reflected as well as enhanced the prevailing values and assumptions of the mainstream The final focus is on McLuhan s Question What happens to society when a new medium of communications enters the picture Rutherford s findings cast doubt upon the common presumptions about the awesome power of television Television in Canada Rutherford concludes amounts to a failed revolution It never realized the ambitions of its masters or the fears of its critics Its course was shaped not only by the will of the government the power of commerce and the empire of Hollywood but also by the desires and habits of the viewers

New Contexts of Canadian Criticism Ajay Heble,Donna Palmateer Pennee,J.R. Struthers,1997-04-18 Times change lives change and the terms we need to describe our literature or society or condition what Raymond Williams calls keywords change with them Perhaps the most significant development in the quarter century since Eli Mandel edited his anthology Contexts of Canadian Criticism has been the growing recognition that not only do different people need different terms but the same terms have different meanings for different people and in different contexts Nation history culture art identity the positions we take discussing these and other issues can lead to conflict but also hold the promise of a new sort of community Speaking of First Nations people and their literature Beth Brant observes that Our connections are like the threads of a weaving While the colour and beauty of each thread is unique and important together they make a communal material of strength and durability New Contexts of Canadian Criticism is designed to be read to work in much the same manner Encyclopedia of Television Horace Newcomb, 2014-02-03 The Encyclopedia of Television second edition is the first major reference work to provide description history analysis and information on more than 1100 subjects related to television in its international context For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclopedia of Television 2nd edition website What Television Remembers Jennifer VanderBurgh, 2023-10-15 Television in Canada has been undervalued as a cultural form Despite being publicly funded Canadian television programs are also notoriously difficult to access once they go off the air which has compounded the problem In What Television Remembers Jennifer VanderBurgh intervenes in the story of the medium in Canada by exploring the long relationship between TV and the city of Toronto From the first demonstration of television at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1939 and the mass viewing of Queen Elizabeth II's coronation broadcast in 1953 to the late century installation of TV screens in public spaces around the city television has shaped Toronto's collective imagination and affirmed viewers in their multiple identities as local residents national citizens and transnational consumers In a close reading of Toronto based CBC dramas from the 1960s to 2010 VanderBurgh explains how the city has functioned as a strategic location in CBC programming reflecting dramatically changing ideas about Canadian identity community and citizenship At a time when many are suggesting that the era of television is over What Television Remembers sounds the alarm that we are in danger of forgetting TV in Canada without appreciating the complexities of its contributions and legacy Human Rights in an Information Age Gregory J. Walters, 2001-01-01 CONTENTS Using OCLC Under PRISM Robert T. Warwick, Kenneth Carlborg, 1997 A manual for librarians incorporating the latest features of OCLC It gives information on constructing search keys and records interpreting search results and selecting displaying records using the OCLC PRISM service OCLC Online Union Catalogue and OCLC Authority File records are also covered Dispatches from the Front David Halton, 2015-10-06 The first major biography of an iconic war correspondent sheds light on the personal life and fascinating career of a remarkable Canadian figure and it's now available in paperback This is Matthew Halton of the CBC So began Matthew Halton's war broadcasts Originally a reporter for the Toronto Star Matt Halton as Senior War Correspondent for the CBC during the Second World War reported from the front lines in Italy and Northwest Europe and became the voice of Canada at war His reports were at times tender and sad and other times shocking and explosive Covering the flashpoints of his generation from the war trenches to the coronation of the Queen Halton filed a series of reports warning that the Third Reich was becoming a vast laboratory and breeding ground for war For a decade he chronicled Europe's drift to disaster covering the breakdown of the League of Nations the Spanish Civil War and the Nazi takeover of Austria and Czechoslovakia Along the way he interviewed Franklin Delano Roosevelt Herman Goering Neville Chamberlain Charles de Gaulle Mahatma Gandhi and dozens of others who shaped the history of the last century Drawing on extensive interviews and archival research this definitive biography written by Matthew's son acclaimed former CBC correspondent David Halton is a fascinating look at the career of one of the most accomplished journalists Canada has ever known Building New Bridges - Bâtir de nouveaux ponts Jeff Keshen, Sylvie Perrier, 2005-06-30 Questions of methodology and the use of sources are fundamental to all academic disciplines In recent years this topic has become far more challenging as scholars are increasingly adopting an interdisciplinary approach to achieve richer and deeper analyses particularly in the humanities and social sciences Building New Bridges Bâtir de nouveaux ponts is a collection of scholarly papers that deals with the first principles of source identification and their effective utilization The contributors to the volume come from a wide range of disciplines and represent both French and English Canada Together they explore and encourage the interdisciplinarity trend around which considerable academic trepidation remains and seek to explain for example how historians and those in English or French analyze texts how scholars approach paintings photography and film and how the study of music relates tempo and lyrics to wider societal trends They utilize their respective research to elucidate means of effectively employing evidences and methods to achieve richer deeper and more nuanced results As a whole the collection provides an excellent primer for scholars of methodology Published in English Anecdotal History of the Science of Sound to the Beginning of the 20th Century Dayton Clarence Miller, 1964 Morals and the Media Nick Russell, 1994 Confronted daily with decisions on how to present their stories what to write and what not to write journalists and the media are frequently accused of sensationalizing of choosing to report the bad news and of misquoting those they interview In this substantially updated edition of Morals and the Media Nick Russell addresses many of the concerns the public has about the media as he examines why the media behave the way they do He also discusses how values have been developed and applied and suggests value systems that can be used to judge special situations An Anecdotal History of the British Parliament George Henry Jennings, 1892
