FRC 2000 - Composites for the Millennium A G Gibson,2000-09-11 This book presents the proceedings of the 8th in this successful series of conferences organised by the Centre for Composite Materials Engineering of the University of Newcastle upon Tyne and sponsored by the Institute of Mechanical Engineers ImechE and The Institute of Materials IoM The papers presented show how FRCs are being used in a steadily increasing range of technologies and how their properties make them appropriate choices for designers and processors interested in exploiting the potential of these highly versatile materials Composites applications now extend well beyond their established uses in aerospace marine and land transport and although exciting developments are still taking place in these fields it is the rapidly expanding range of civil engineering and infrastructure applications which offers the greatest potential for novel uses FRC s high strength light weight and durability make them appropriate for large scale structures and as these proceedings demonstrate they are increasingly being specified as an advantageous alternative to more traditional materials Composite Sheet Forming D. Bhattacharyya,1997-06-18 Sheet forming is the most common process used in metal forming and is therefore constantly being adapted or modified to suit the needs of forming composite sheets Due to the increasing availability of various types of fibre reinforced polymeric sheets especially with thermoplastic matrices the scope of use of such materials is rapidly expanding in the automobile building sports and other manufacturing industries beyond the traditional areas of aerospace and aircraft applications This book contains twelve chapters and attempts to cover different aspects of sheet forming including both thermoplastic and thermosetting materials In view of the expanded role of fibre reinforced composite sheets in the industry the book also describes some non traditional applications processes and analytical techniques involving such materials The first chapter is a brief introduction to the principles of sheet metal forming The next two chapters introduce the various forms of materials manufacturing techniques and the fundamentals of computer simulation Chapter 4 describes the different aspects of thermoforming of continuous fibre reinforced thermoplastics and the following chapter studies the shear and frictional behaviour of composite sheets during forming Chapter 6 explores the possibility of applying the grid strain analysis method in continuous fibre reinforced polymeric sheets The next two chapters address fundamental concepts and recent developments in finite element modelling and rheology Chapter 9 introduces the theory of bending of thermoplastic composite sheets and shows a novel way of determining both longitudinal and transverse viscosities through vee bend tests A significant expansion in the usage of composite materials is taking place in biomedical areas Chapter 10 discusses the thermoforming of knitted fabric reinforced thermoplastics for load bearing and anisotropic bio implants The final chapter introduces roll forming a commonly used rapid manufacturing process for sheet metals and discusses the possibility of applying it economically for continuous reinforced thermoplastic sheets Surface Ship Operations United States.
