1. The first thing you should do is to make sure you have all the ingredients you need. This includes flour, sugar, eggs, and butter. You should also have a mixing bowl and a whisk.

2. Next, you should preheat your oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. This will ensure that your cake cooks evenly.

3. Once your oven is preheated, you can start mixing the ingredients. Begin by combining the flour and sugar in a large bowl. Then, add the eggs and butter, and mix everything together until you have a smooth batter.

4. Finally, pour the batter into a greased cake pan and bake it for 30-40 minutes. Once the cake is done, let it cool for a few minutes before serving it.

Ethnic Modernisms D. Konzett, 2002-11-08 This study explores a new understanding of modernism and ethnicity as put forward in the transnational and diasporic writings of Anzia Yeziarska Zora Neale Hurston and Jean Rhys In its selection of three modernists from apparently different cultural backgrounds it is meant to make us rethink the role of modernism in terms of ethnicity and displacement Konzett critiques the traditional understanding of the monocultural ethnic identity often highlighted in the studies of these writers and argues that all three writers are better understood as ironic narrators of diaspora and movement and as avant garde modernists As a result they offer an alternative aesthetics of modernism which is centered around the innovative narration of displacement Her analysis of the complexities of language and form and impact of the complex and ambiguous formal styles of the three writers on the history of their reception is a model of the effective integration of formalist historicist and theoretical perspectives in literary criticism
