South African Food Agriculture In:

Transforming Agriculture in Southern Africa Richard A. Sikora, Eugene R. Terry, Paul L.G. Vlek, Joyce Chitja, 2019-11-27 This book provides a synthesis of the key issues and challenges facing agriculture and food production in Southern Africa. Southern Africa is facing numerous challenges from diverse issues such as agricultural transformations, growing populations, urbanization, and climate change. These challenges place great pressure on food security, agriculture, water availability, and other natural resources, as well as impacting biodiversity. Drawing on case studies from Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland, Tanzania, Zambia, and Zimbabwe, the chapters in this book consider these challenges from an interdisciplinary perspective, covering key areas in constraints to production, the most important building blocks of good farming practices, and established and emerging technologies. This book will be a valuable support for informing new policies and processes aimed at improving food production and security and developing sustainable agriculture in Southern Africa. This informative volume will be key reading for those interested in agricultural science, African studies, rural studies, development studies, and sustainability. It will also be a valuable resource for policymakers, governmental and nongovernmental organizations, and agricultural practitioners. The New Political Economy of Land Reform in South Africa Adeoye O. Akinola, Irrshad Kaseeram, Nokukhanya N. Jili, 2020-09-18 This book analyzes the new political economy of land reform in South Africa. It takes a holistic approach to understand South Africa's land reform, assesses the current policy gaps, and suggests ways of filling them. Due to its cross-disciplinary approach, the book will appeal to a broad audience and will benefit readers from the fields of policy reform, administration, law, political science, political economics, agricultural economics, global politics, resource studies, and development studies.

Southern African Landscapes and Environmental Change Peter J. Holmes, John Boardman, 2018-07-04 This volume provides a textbook and reference work on the physical and biotic landscapes of Southern Africa. It examines the links between these environments and the ways in which they have been and will likely be subject to change. It covers the geomorphology, soils, vegetation, and land use across a range of landscapes, including mountains, coasts, savannah drylands and wetlands and identifies the impacts of current and potential climate change and other factors on these environments The geographical focus is on the region defined by Namibia South Africa Botswana Mozambique Zimbabwe Lesotho and Swaziland Illustrated throughout in full colour the book will serve as a reference volume for researchers and environmental professionals internationally as well as a textbook for senior undergraduate and graduate level students of geography ecology and environmental studies in Southern Africa HIV/AIDS and Agriculture in sub-Saharan Africa Tanja R. Müller, 2023-08-28 This publication is the first in a series on HIV AIDS and agriculture in sub Saharan Africa with the overall objective of providing a resource base on issues of rural development in a broad sense in the times of HIV AIDS This first book discusses the impact of the epidemic as it has emerged over the last decades at different levels of the agricultural sector namely the farming system level the livelihood level and the household level In a further step impact on the agricultural estate sector as well as pastoralism is discussed One overarching issue that emerges is the importance of gender attributes to adequately understand and address HIV AIDS impact the topic at the centre of the second part of the series The text ends with a discussion of HIV AIDS in relation to other shocks that befall rural livelihoods It is followed by an annotated bibliography Food and Nutrition Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne, Jonathan Crush, Cameron McCordic, 2017-12-22 Urban population growth is extremely rapid across Africa and this book places urban food and nutrition security firmly on the development and policy agenda It shows that current efforts to address food poverty in Africa that focus entirely on small scale farmers to the exclusion of broader socio economic and infrastructural approaches are misplaced and will remain largely ineffective in ameliorating food and nutrition insecurity for the majority of Africans Using original data from the African Food Security Urban Network's AFSUN extensive database it is demonstrated that the primary food security challenge for urban households is access to food Already linked into global food systems and value chains Africa's supply of food is not necessarily in jeopardy Rather the widespread poverty and informal urban fabric that characterizes Africa's emerging cities impinge directly on households capacity to access food that is readily available Through the analysis of empirical data collected from 6 500 households in eleven cities in nine countries in Southern Africa the authors identify the complexity of factors and dynamics that create the circumstances of widespread food and nutrition insecurity under which urban citizens live They also provide useful policy approaches to address these conditions that currently thwart the latent development potential of Africa's expanding urban population
