Southern African Literature:

Southern African Literatures Michael J. F. Chapman, 2003 Southern African Literatures is a major study of the work of writers from South Africa Zimbabwe Zambia Malawi Angola Mozambique and Namibia written at a time of crucial change in the subcontinent It covers a wide range of work from the storytelling of stone age Bushmen to modern writing by renowned figures such as Esia Mphahlele Nadine Gordimer and André Brink encompassing traditional popular and elite writing literature in translation and case studies based on topical issues Michael Chapman argues that literary history in the southern African region is best based on a comparative method which while respecting differences of language race and social circumstance seeks cultural interchange including translations of experience across linguistic and ethnic borders Instead of perpetuating division the study examines points of common reference as it asks what makes a literary culture Who are to be regarded as major and minor authors What are the strengths and limitations of local and international perspectives Should literature in today's southern Africa be confined to the art forms of poems plays and fiction The author seeks to answer these questions vital to all literary discussion in the volatile context of recent southern African history in a style accessible to the general reader The study is republished with a revised Preface in which the author considers the sometimes heated debates that accompanied the book's initial appearance Southern African Literatures in 2000 was awarded the premier Bill Venter Prize for academic literature in South Africa

History of South African Literature Christopher Heywood, 2004-11-18 This book is a critical study of South African literature from colonial and pre colonial times onwards Christopher Heywood discusses selected poems plays and prose works in five literary traditions Khoisan Nguni Sotho Afrikaans English and Indian The discussion includes over 100 authors and selected works including poets from Mqhayi Marais and Campbell to Butler Serote and Krog theatre writers from Bonifazi and Black to Fugard and Mda and fiction writers from Schreiner and Plaatje to Bessie Head and the Nobel prizewinners Gordimer and Coetzee The literature is explored in the setting of crises leading to the formation of modern South Africa notably the rise and fall of the Emperor Shaka's Zulu kingdom the Colenso crisis industrialisation the colonial and post colonial wars of 1899 1914 and 1939 and the dissolution of apartheid society In Heywood's study South African literature emerges as among the great literatures of the modern world

South & Southern African Literature Eldred D. Jones, Marjorie Jones, 2002 The end of the apartheid in South Africa has meant that the literature of protest need no longer dominate creative output This title looks at the realities of independent African nations as expressed in song and literature

Southern African Literature Stephen Gray, 1979 Rediscovery of the Ordinary Njabulo Simakahle Ndebele, 2006 Njabulo S Ndebele's essays on South African literature and culture initially appeared in various publications in the 1980s They encompass a period of trauma defiance and change the decade of the collapse of apartheid and the challenge of reconstructing a future In 1991 the essays were collected under the current title of Rediscovery of the Ordinary Essays on

South African Literature and Culture Here this collection is reprinted without revision together with an interview provoked by Albie Sachs paper Preparing Ourselves for Freedom That it is possible to republish the essays without revision so many years after their first appearance is a tribute to Ndebele s prescience The issues that he raises and the questions that he poses remain key to a people who after apartheid have started to rediscover the complex ordinariness of living in a civil society

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Kloppe,Craig Mackenzie,2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country s literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

South African Writing in Transition Rita Barnard,Andrew van der Vlies,2019-02-21 Bringing together leading and emerging scholars this book asks the question how has contemporary South African literature grappled with ideas of time and history during the political transition away from apartheid Reading the work of major South African writers such as J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer and Ivan Vladislavic as well as contemporary crime fiction South African Writing in Transition explores how concerns about time and temporality have shaped literary form across the country s literary culture Establishing new connections between leading literary voices and lesser known works the book explores themes of truth and reconciliation disappointment and betrayal
