The Muslim Jesus Sayings And Stories In Islamic Literature:

The Muslim Jesus, 2003-04-30 This work presents in English translation the largest collection ever assembled of the sayings and stories of Jesus in Arabic Islamic literature The 300 sayings and stories arranged in chronological order show us how the image of this Jesus evolved throughout a millennium of Islamic history

The Muslim Jesus, 2003-04-30 This work presents in English translation the largest collection ever assembled of the sayings and stories of Jesus in Arabic Islamic literature In doing so it traces a tradition of love and reverence for Jesus that has characterized Islamic thought for more than a thousand years An invaluable resource for the history of religions the collection documents how one culture that of Islam assimilated the towering religious figure of another that of Christianity As such it is a work of great significance for the understanding of both and of profound implications for modern day intersectorian relations and ecumenical dialogue Tarif Khalidi's introduction and commentaries place the sayings and stories in their historical context showing how and why this gospel arose and the function it served within Muslim devotion The Jesus that emerges here is a compelling figure of deep and life giving spirituality The sayings and stories some 300 in number and arranged in chronological order show us how the image of this Jesus evolved throughout a millennium of Islamic history

The Gospels in Islamic Context Georgina L. Jardim, Ida Glaser, Shirin Shafaie, 2025-09-30 Bringing together scholars from across the world this publication shows Christians and Muslims individually or together reading the canonical Gospels of the New Testament in conversation with Islamic texts and contexts In the discovery of meaning between text context and praxis this volume asks what are the texts doing in contexts as far flung as Indonesia the Hijaz of early Islam in Persian poetry of medieval times or modern Sunni interpretation in north America This second edited volume in the series Reading the Bible in Islamic Context continues the pioneering venture in contextual and intertextual reading It shows the richness of cooperative scholarship that results from reading the New Testament in Islamic context and exploring how the Gospel is understood in various religious traditions The Gospels in Islamic Context will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners encouraging them to explore new methods for taking into account intertextual factors as well as the history of Muslim Christian relations that arises from them It is a venture in which Muslims and Christians travel side by side and in conversation with each other although with significantly different perspectives and often different agendas

Christology in Christian-Muslim Dialogue Rev Fr Dr Robert Afayori, 2021-02-11 Understanding the religious beliefs and practices of the other raises hermeneutic questions on the extent to which the dialogical call to openness is related to commitment the meaning of religious identity and whether openness to the beliefs of the other poses a threat to one's religious identity If interreligious learning demands that the interlocutors unite their attitude of commitment and openness how does this occur without the loss of alterity This book addresses these questions within the context of Christian Muslim dialogue on Christology as an exercise in learning a new form of dialogue which leads Christians and Muslims to the discovery of common values such as prayer and submission to
