Human Thought and Social Organization Murray J. Leaf, Dwight Read, 2012-06-07 Human beings have two outstanding characteristics compared to all other species the apparently enormous elaboration of our thought through language and symbolism and the elaboration of our forms of social organization The view taken in Human Thought and Social Organization Anthropology on a New Plane is that these are intimately interconnected To understand this connection the book compares the structure of the systems of thought that organizations are built upon with the organizational basis of human thinking as such An experimental method is used leading to a new science of the structure of human social organizations in two senses First it gives rise to a new kind of ethnology that has the combination of empirical solidity and formal analytical rigor associated with the paradigmatic sciences Second it makes evident that social organizations have distinctive properties and require distinctive explanations of a sort that cannot be reduced to the explanations drawn from or grounded in these other sciences Human social organizations are created by people using systems of ideas with very specific logical properties This book describes what these idea systems are with an unbroken chain of analysis that begins with field elicitation and continues by working out their most fundamental logico mathematical generative elements This enables us to see precisely how these idea systems are used to generate organizations that give pattern to ongoing behavior The book shows how organizations are objectified by community members through symbolic representations that provide them with shared conceptions of organizations roles or relations that they see each other as participating in The case for this constructive process being pan Homo sapiens is described spanning all human communities from the Upper Paleolithic to today and from the most seemingly primitive Australian tribes to modern day America and India While focusing primarily on kinship Human Thought and Social Organization shows how the analysis applies with equal precision to other social areas ranging from farming to political factionalism

Haglund, 2023-03 David G Haglund s Sister Republics tells the story of the unique relationship between the United States and its first ally France Historians and political scientists have characterized interactions between the two countries in the spheres of security and defense policy in radically different ways either the two comport themselves in a highly cooperative fashion befitting their status as old allies and steadfast friends or they act as bitter rivals revealing their alliance to be at best dysfunctional and at worst destructive Haglund uses a fresh approach to reconcile these divergent positions examining the Franco American bond through the prism of strategic culture In doing so he reveals the cultural factors that have contributed to the suboptimal relationship between the two nations

The Ethics of Relationships , 2025-09-04 Relationships are of utmost importance to our lives in that they give rise to various kinds of goods Yet they also make us vulnerable to distinct kinds of wrongs and harms So far philosophers have given some attention to the topics of friendship parent child relationships and love but many other kinds of relationships have been neglected Moreover philosophical theorizing has mostly focused on the value of relationships while the wrongs and harms involved in leading a particular relationship have hardly been investigated Similarly relationships have been analyzed as rather static phenomena but once we realize that they wax and wane and can even come to an end further moral challenges come into view This edited volume makes a major contribution to establishing an ethics of relationships through its analysis of many different kinds of relationships The chapters in this collection offer an in depth understanding of the distinct nature and value of relationships while also highlighting the dark sides of relationships and their distinct moral intricacies Contributions cover the relationship to self sibling relationships friendships and romantic partnerships including relationships between former partners More socially mediated connections are also discussed such as neighbours colleagues students and teachers as well as fans and celebrities In addition negative relationships like those between enemies and those between victims and perpetrators are explored in detail The final chapters examine relationships with non human entities including companion animals and AI systems Through its wide ranging coverage and insightful analysis The Ethics of Relationships significantly broadens the scope of discussion and elucidates the normative significance of relationships

Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara Cooper,2021-11-02 The idea of brotherhood has been an important philosophical concept for understanding community equality and justice In Gendering Modern Jewish Thought Andrea Dara Cooper offers a gendered reading that challenges the key figures of the all male fraternity of twentieth century Jewish philosophy to open up to the feminine Cooper offers a feminist lens which when applied to thinkers such as Franz Rosenzweig and Emmanuel Levinas reveals new ways of illuminating questions of relational ethics embodiment politics and positionality She shows that patriarchal kinship as models of erotic love brotherhood and paternity are not accidental in Jewish philosophy but serve as norms that have excluded women and non normative individuals Gendering Modern Jewish Thought suggests these fraternal models do real damage and must be brought to account in more broadly humanistic frameworks For Cooper a more responsible and ethical reading of Jewish philosophy comes forward when it is opened to the voices of mothers sisters and daughters

Almost 18 Paula Osipovitch,2012-04-01 My daughter Trisha left this world due to a reckless driver just one month short of her eighteenth birthday Confusion rage anger and denial became my new world I felt alone as if I were free falling for years But my words are a sanctuary My desire is to bring awareness to other parents who have lost children My message is to convey to bereaved parents that they are not alone on this journey and their feelings are not only acceptable but also normal I hope to provide a forum in which those who suffer as I have can compare their feelings along with mine can share in the same emotions I have as we try to learn the best way to continue moving along in a world that for us can never be the same I have had many obstacles interfere with the grieving process as I share my story pain and anguish as therapy and solace to others
