Ayia Irini Mary Eliot, Whitney Powell-Cummer, David E. Wilson, 2024-10-15 Continuing the work of publishing the excavations at the site of Ayia Irini on the Cycladic island of Keos this volume focuses on the architecture and stratigraphy of the site

Collision and Collapse at the Africa-Arabia-Eurasia Subduction Zone \ Douwe J. J. van Hinsbergen, Michael A. Edwards, Rob Govers, 2009 The Mediterranean and northern Arabian regions provide a unique natural laboratory to constrain geodynamics associated with arc-continent and continent-continent collision and subsequent orogenic collapse by analysing regional and temporal distributions of the various elements in the geological archive This book combines thirteen new contributions that highlight timing and distribution of the Cretaceous to Recent evolution of the Calabrian-Carpathian-Aegean and Anatolian segments of the Africa-Arabia-Eurasia subduction zone These are subdivided into five papers documenting the timing and kinematics of Cretaceous arc-continent collision and Eocene and Miocene continent-continent collision in Anatolia with westward extrusion of Anatolia as a result Eight papers provide an overview and new data from stratigraphy, structure, metamorphism and magmatism covering the geological consequences of the largely Neogene collapse that characterizes the segments of interest in response to late stage reorganization of the subduction zone and the roll-back and break-off of segments of the subducting slab

Prehistory of the Paximadi Peninsula, Euboea Tracey Cullen, William R. Farrandy, Lia Karamali, Donald R. Keller, Lauren E. Talalay, 2013-10-15 The results of two related fieldwork projects are presented: a brief salvage excavation at Plakari, a Final Neolithic site near the modern town of Karystos, and a survey of prehistoric sites on the Paximadi peninsula, the western arm of the Karystos bay, both located in southern Euboea These ventures were part of the larger mission of the Southern Euboea Exploration Project (SEEP), a multidisciplinary research program dedicated to the study of the Karystian past and which maintained a presence in southern Euboea for over 25 years These projects have found that contrary to what archaeologists once believed, southern Euboea was hardly an uninhabited and isolated region in prehistory The inhabitants actively participated in the expanded maritime and social landscape that characterized the later Neolithic and Early Bronze Age in the Aegean, taking part in exchange networks of stone, ceramics, marble, figurines and vessels and possibly agricultural goods and metalwork

Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context Marisa Marthari,Colin Renfrew,Michael J. Boyd,2017-01-04 The sculpture of the early bronze age Cyclades has been systematically studied since the time of Christos Tsountas at the end of the 19th century But that study has been hampered by the circumstance that so many of the subsequent finds come from unauthorized excavations where the archaeological context was irretrievably lost Largely for that reason there are still many problems surrounding the chronology the function and the meaning of Early Cycladic sculpture This lavishly illustrated and comprehensive reassessment sets out to rectify that situation by publishing finds which have been recovered in controlled excavations in recent years as well as earlier finds for which better documentation can now be provided Using the material from recent excavation projects and drawing on the papers presented at a symposium held in Athens in 2014 it is possible now to undertake a fresh overview of the entire body of sculpture from the Cycladic islands which has been found in secure archaeological contexts Beginning with early examples from Neolithic settlement sites and extending into a consideration of material found in later contexts the 35 chapters are divided into sections which examine sculpture from settlements cemeteries and the sanctuary at Kavos concluding with a discussion of material techniques and aspects of manufacture southeast Cyclades Keros became widely known after a series of extensive and clandestine excavations in the 1950s and early 1960s which concentrated on a particularly rich deposit of material at the site of Kavos situated at its barren western extremity. These major lootings resulted in the illegal export from Greece of a large number of Early Cycladic objects mostly fragmentary marble figurines that flooded the international antiquities market under the general name the Keros Hoard. The cache was said to have included at least 350 Cycladic objects and is now widely dispersed. This study features a review of the archaeological investigations on Keros, a discussion of the so-called Keros Hoard, an extensive account of the various aspects of Cycladic figurines and a catalogue of the objects identified as coming from the Hoard. Also included are an analysis of the data derived from the Hoard, the results of the study comparing the fragments in the Museum of Cycladic Art with those discovered at Kavos during official archaeological investigations, and an interpretation of the Ho
