Southwestern Colonial Ironwork Marc Simmons, Frank Turley, 2019-06-04 A survey of the full range of ornamental and utilitarian ironwork used and made by Spanish colonial people in California Arizona New Mexico and Texas

Southwestern Colonial Ironwork Marc Simmons, 1983 Colonial Wrought Iron Don Plummer, 1999 Colonial Wrought Iron is a photographic survey of early wrought iron work in America with 506 photographs from the Sorber Collection The colonial period in America was centered around the blacksmith who was the maker and creator of these items The informational text explains the characteristics and the conditions of the period in which the iron was forged Colonial Wrought Iron is an invaluable resource tool for the blacksmith involved making reproduction hardware and related items as well as an inspiration for merging form and function In this book you will find the commonplace and the ornate but they all reflect the hand of fine craftsmanship The work displayed in Colonial Wrought Iron is from the collection of Jim Sorber Jim now in his eighties has been an avid collector for 70 years This collection is a result of a life steeped in an enduring appreciation for the skills of his ancestors Even as a child he was interested in their hand tools and the wonderful things they made That interest soon grew into a passion A unique aspect of Jims collection is that it reflects a certain ethnic influence Much of his collecting has been done near his home in the counties of Berks Chester Lancaster Lebanon Lehigh Montgomery and Schuylkill This area has been settled by German immigrants since the mid to late 17th century Jims collection many pieces of which are signed and dated reflects an iron chronicle of the Pennsylvania Dutch migration westward from the Philadelphia area Spanish Colonial Lives Linda Tigges, 2016-01-21 On their return to New Mexico from El Paso after the 1680 Pueblo Revolt the New Mexican settlers were confronted with continuous raids by hostile Indians tribes disease and an inhospitable landscape In spite of this in the early and mid eighteenth century the New Mexicans went about their daily lives as best they could as shown in original documents from the time The documents show them making deals traveling around the countryside and to and from El Paso and Mexico City complaining about and arguing with each other holding festivals and making plans for the future of their children It also shows them interacting with the presidio soldiers the Franciscan friars and Inquisition officials El Paso and Chihuahua merchants the occasional Frenchman and their Pueblo Indian allies Because many of the documents include oral testimony we are able to read what they had to say sometimes angry asking for help or giving excuses for their behavior as written down by a scribe at the time This book includes fifty four original handwritten documents from the early and mid eighteenth century Most of the original documents are located in the Spanish Archives of New Mexico although some are from the Bancroft Library at the University of California at Berkeley the Archivo General de la Nacion in Mexico City and elsewhere They were selected for their description of Spanish Colonial life of interest to the many descendants of the characters that appear in them and because they tell a good story A translation and transcription of each document is included as well as a synopsis background notes and biographical notes They can be considered a companion in part to Ralph Emerson Twitchell's 1914 two volumes The Spanish Archives of New Mexico summarizing the documents of the Spanish Archives of New Mexico now available in new editions from Sunstone Press

Santa Fe Elizabeth West, 2012 This question and answer book contains 400 reminders of what is known and what is sometimes forgotten or misunderstood about a city that was founded more than 400 years ago Not a traditional history book this group of questions is presented in an apparently random order and the answers occasionally meander off topic as if part of a casual conversation
