Dress and Identity in America Daniel Delis Hill, 2023-12-14 Dress and Identity in America is an examination of the conservatism and materialism that swept across the country in the late 1940s through the 1950s a backlash to the wartime tumult privations and social upheavals of the Second World War The study looks at how American men sought to recapture a masculine identity from a generation earlier that of the stoic patriarch breadwinner and dutiful father and in the process became the men in the gray flannel suits who were complacently conventional and conformist Parallel to that is a look at how American women who had donned pants and went to work in wartime munitions factories or joined services like the WACS and WAVES were now expected to stay at home as housewives and mothers dressed in cinched ultrafeminine New Look fashions As the Space Age dawned their baby boom children rejected the conventions of their elders and experimented with their own ideas of identity and dress in an emerging era of counterculture revolutions

Ontario Boys Christopher J. Greig, 2014-03-24 Ontario Boys explores the preoccupation with boyhood in Ontario during the immediate postwar period 1945-1960 It argues that a traditional version of boyhood was being rejuvenated in response to a population fraught with uncertainty and suffering from insecurity instability and gender anxiety brought on by depression era and wartime disruptions in marital familial and labour relations as well as mass migration rapid postwar economic changes the emergence of the Cold War and the looming threat of atomic annihilation In this sociopolitical and cultural context concerned adults began to cast the fate of the postwar world onto children in particular boys In the decade and a half immediately following World War II the version of boyhood that became the ideal was one that stressed selflessness togetherness honesty fearlessness frank determination and emotional toughness It was thought that investing boys with this version of masculinity was essential if they were to grow into the kind of citizens capable of governing protecting and defending the nation and of course maintaining and regulating the social order Drawing on a wide variety of sources Ontario Boys demonstrates that although girls were expected and encouraged to internalize a special kind of citizenship as caregivers and educators of children and nurturers of men the gendered content and language employed indicated that active public citizenship and democracy was intended for boys An appropriate boyhood in the postwar period became if nothing else a metaphor for the survival of the nation

Always Loving: A Life in Five Worlds Unknown Stephen Thiermann, 2012-04-12 Mildred Hunter Thiermann's life story and spiritual journey span multiple worlds Born a century ago in central Ontario she experienced the twentieth century as an adventure of religious exploration and political discovery The daughter of a progressive minister in the United Church of Canada Mildred's early embrace of the Quaker faith and her marriage to an American conscientious objector at the close of WW II opened her heart to transformative spiritual awakenings as she traveled from Canada to sojourns in the United States Europe New York City and finally her spiritual world Among birthright Quakers I call myself a birthright Methodist she quotes Her story reflects the quest of feminist religious seekers throughout the Western World who seek to know God through the lens of political action social justice international organization and family Adult Children of Abusive Parents Steven Farmer, 1990 A history of a childhood abuse is not a life sentence Here is hope healing and a chance to recover the self lost in childhood Drawing on his extensive work with Adult Children and on his own experience as a survivor of emotional neglect therapist Steven Farmer demonstrates that through exercises and journal work his program can help lead you through grieving your lost childhood to become your own parent and integrate the healing aspects of spiritual physical and emotional recovery into your adult life
