The Lost Detective Nathan Ward, 2015-09-15 A 2016 Edgar Award Nominee Before he became a household name in America as perhaps our greatest hard boiled crime writer before his attachment to Lillian Hellman and blacklisting during the McCarthy era and his subsequent downward spiral Dashiell Hammett led a life of action Born in 1894 into a poor Maryland family Hammett left school at fourteen and held several jobs before joining the Pinkerton National Detective Agency as an operative in 1915 and with time off in 1918 to serve at the end of World War I he remained with the agency until 1922 participating alike in the banal and dramatic action of an operative The tuberculosis he contracted during the war forced him to leave the Pinkertons but it may well have prompted one of America's most acclaimed writing careers While Hammett's life on center stage has been well documented the question of how he got there has not That largely overlooked phase is the subject of Nathan Ward's enthralling The Lost Detective Hammett's childhood his life in San Francisco and especially his experience as a detective deeply informed his writing and his characters from the nameless Continental Op hero of his stories and early novels to Sam Spade and Nick Charles The success of his many stories in the pulp magazine Black Mask following his departure from the Pinkertons led him to novels he would write five between 1929 and 1934 two of them The Maltese Falcon and The Thin Man now American classics Though he inspired generations of writers from Chandler to Connelly and all in between after The Thin Man he never finished another book a painful silence for his devoted readers and his popular image has long been shaped by the remembrance of Hellman who knew him after his literary reputation had been made Based on original research across the country The Lost Detective is the first book to illuminate Hammett's transformation from real detective to great American detective writer throwing brilliant new light on one of America's most celebrated and remembered novelists and his world American Mystery and Detective Novels Larry

Bucholz and the Detectives Allan Pinkerton,2020-09-28 About a mile and a half from the city of South Norwalk in the State of Connecticut rises an eminence known as Roton Hill The situation is beautiful and romantic in the extreme Far away in the distance glistening in the bright sunshine of an August morning roll the green waters of Long Island Sound bearing upon its broad bosom the numerous vessels that ply between the City of New York and the various towns and cities along the coast The massive and luxurious steamers and the little white winged yachts the tall three masters and the trim and gracefully sailing schooners are in full view At the base of the hill runs the New York and New Haven Railroad with its iron horse and long trains of cars carrying their wealth of freights and armies of passengers to all points in the East while to the left lies the town of South Norwalk the spires of its churches rising up into the blue sky like monuments pointing heaven ward and whose beautiful and capacious school houses are filled with the bright eyes and rosy faces of the youths who receive from competent teachers the lessons that will prove so valuable in the time to come Various manufactories add to the wealth of the inhabitants whose luxurious homes and bright gardens are undoubted indications of prosperity and domestic comfort The placid river runs through the town which with the heavy barges lying at the wharves the draw bridges which span its shores and the smaller crafts which afford amusement to the youthful fraternity contribute to the general picturesqueness of the scene The citizens descended from good old revolutionary sires possess the sturdy ambitions the indomitable will and the undoubted honor of their ancestors and as is the case with all progressive American towns South Norwalk boasts of its daily journal which furnishes the latest intelligence of current events proffers its opinions upon the important questions of the day and like the Sentinel of old stands immovable and unimpeachable between the people and any attempted encroachment upon their rights On a beautiful sunny day in August 1878 there descended from the train that came puffing up to the commodious station at South Norwalk an old man apparently a German accompanied by a much younger one evidently of the same nationality The old gentleman was not prepossessing in appearance and seemed to be avoided by his well dressed fellow passengers He was a tall smooth faced man about sixty years of age but his broad shoulders and erect carriage gave evidence of an amount of physical power and strength scarcely in accord with his years Nor was his appearance calculated to impress the observer with favor He wore a wretched looking coat and upon his head a dingy faded hat of foreign manufacture His shoes showed frequent patches and looked very much as though their owner had performed the duties of an amateur cobbler Buchols and the Detectives Allan Pinkerton,1883 The Legendary
