The Modern Of French Verse In English Transl:

The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators

Mabie, Lucia Isabella Gilbert Runkle, George Henry Warner, 1897 Boudica's Odyssey in Early Modern England Dr

Samantha Fr  n  e-Hutchins, 2014-06-28 This diachronic study of Boudica serves as a sourcebook of references to Boudica in the early modern period and gives an overview of the ways in which her story was processed and exploited by the different players of the times who wanted to give credence and support to their own belief systems The author examines the different apparatus of state ideology which processed the social religious and political representations of Boudica for public absorption and helped form the popular myth we have of Boudica today By exploring images of the Briton warrior queen across two reigns which witnessed an act of political union and a move from English female rule under Elizabeth I to British Scottish masculine rule under James VI I the author conducts a critical cartography of the ways in which gender colonialism and nationalism crystallised around this crucial historical figure Concentrating on the original transmission and reception of the ancient texts the author analyses the historical works of Hector Boece Raphael Holinshed and William Camden as well as the canonical literary figures of Edmund Spenser William Shakespeare and John Fletcher She also looks at aspects of other primary sources not covered in previous scholarship such as Humphrey Llwyd's Breuiary of Britayne 1573 Petruccio Ubaldini's Le Vite delle donne illustri del regno d Inghilterra e del regno di Scotia 1588 and Edmund Bolton's Nero Caesar 1624 Furthermore she incorporates archaeological research relating to Boudica

Transnationalism and Translation in Modern Chinese, English, French and Japanese Literatures Ryan Johnson, 2020-12-15 The theory of literary worlds has become increasingly important in comparative and world literatures But how are the often contradictory elements of Eastern and Western literatures to cohere in the new worlds such contact creates Drawing on the latest work in philosophical logic and analytic Asian philosophy this monograph proposes a new model of literary worlds that is best suited to comparative literature dealing with Western and East Asian traditions Unlike much discussion of world literature anchored in North American traditions featured here is the transnational work of artists philosophers and poets writing in English French Japanese and Mandarin in the twentieth century Rather than imposing sharp borders this book suggests that vague boundaries link Eastern and Western literary works and traditions and that degrees of distance can better help us to see the multiple dimensions that both distinguish and join together literary worlds East and West As such it enables us to grasp not only how East Asian and Western writers translate one another's works into their own languages and traditions but also how modern writers East and West modify their own traditions in order to make them fit in the new constellation of literary worlds brought about by the complex flow of literary information across twentieth century Eurasia
