The Modern Short Story:

Masters of the Modern Short Story Walter Havighurst, 1955 The stories in this collection contain various glimpses of truth Incident develops in the foreground accompanying it as a man crossing a summer field is accompanied by his shadow develops the idea which it exemplifies The story writer embodies truth in people from which all meaning must come giving it the warmth and vitality of human experience he uses specific incidents to symbolize universal conditions of life That method of conveying truth can be considered indirect or it can be considered the most concrete and direct method possible At any rate it is the storyteller's way From the introduction

The Modern Short Story Lucy Lilian Notestein, Waldo Hilary Dunn, 1914 Irish Women Writers and the Modern Short Story Elke D'hoker, 2016-07-28 This book traces the development of the modern short story in the hands of Irish women writers from the 1890s to the present George Egerton Somerville and Ross Elizabeth Bowen Mary Lavin Edna O'Brien Anne Enright and Claire Keegan are only some of the many Irish women writers who have made lasting contributions to the genre of the modern short story yet their achievements have often been marginalized in literary histories which typically define the Irish short story in terms of its oral heritage nationalist concerns rural realism and outsider hero Through a detailed investigation of the short fiction of fifteen prominent writers this study aims to open up this critical conceptualization of the Irish short story to the formal properties and thematic concerns women writers bring to the genre What stands out in thematic terms is an abiding interest in human relations whether of love the family or the larger community In formal terms this book traces the overall development of the Irish short story highlighting both the lines of influence that connect these writers and the specific use each individual author makes of the short story form

The Modern Short Story Frank Myszor, 2001 The Modern Short Story is an addition to the Cambridge Contexts in Literature series It is designed to support the needs of advanced level students of English literature Each title in the series has the quality content and level endorsed by the OCR examination board However the texts provide the background and focus suitable for any examination board at advanced level The series explores the contextual study of texts by concentrating on key periods topics and comparisons in literature Each book adopts an interactive approach and provides the background for understanding the significance of literary historical and social contexts Students are encouraged to investigate different interpretations that may be applied to literary texts by different readers through a variety of activities and questions the use of study aids such as chronologies and glossaries and the inclusion of anthology sections to exemplify issues

The Modern Short Story; a Study of the Form Lucy Lilian Notestein, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1914 edition Excerpt THE PERSONALITY OF THE WRITER Thus far we have treated the Short story as a form as a technique Yet one should never lose sight of the fact that technique alone cannot make an admirable story Faultless technique is necessary in the Short story as in the sonnet but it is not the final test of worth We praise a musician s technique yet we rightly enjoy the performance only when it shows warmth of feeling The Shortstory form has become common it greets us on every side Story writers who have mistaken technical skill for true art have sprung up like weeds in a meadow The result is that people are well nigh sated with inferior work If in the last half dozen years the Short story has seemed to degenerate if it has come to be regarded as more or less of a dissipation by people who enjoy strenuous thinking it is small wonder People who have not thought keenly and felt sincerely can imitate a form they cannot make literature If as much prominence were given to cheap imitation poetry whose only virtue is a close adherence to a strict metre a definite rhyme scheme and a well regulated rhythm as there is given to the same sort of Short story we should gain a highly inadequate and absurd idea of the real value and beauty of poetry There is a Short story which is more than form one which we care to remember as we do a good poem We read it again and again It too has a rigid form but it has what technique can never give a personal element It is written in emotional fervor by those who have tasted life in some of its sweetness and bitterness and who are ready to speak their vision out of a full heart All writing except the purely scientific is an expression of the personality of him who writes it Facts are the same in Modern Short Stories: A Book for High Schools Various, 2021-08-30 Excerpt Most collections of short stories that have been prepared for school use up to the present are more or less alike in in drawing much of their material from the past Authors and content alike are dead Here is a collection that is entirely modern The authors represented are among the leading authors of the day the stories are principally stories of present day life the themes are themes of present day thought The students who read this book will be more awake to the present and will be better citizens of to day The Short Story Ailsa Cox, 2009-03-26 Long regarded as an undervalued and marginalised genre the short story is undergoing a renaissance The Short Story celebrates its unique appeal Practitioners and scholars address the issues facing short story criticism in the 21st century Author A L Kennedy shares the pleasures and frustrations of writing the short story in the literary marketplace This is followed by an assessment of recent attempts to promote short story readership in the UK Other contributors look at forms such as the short short and the short story sequence The range of authors discussed includes Martin Amis Anita Desai Salman Rushdie and James Joyce The short story is the most international of genres this is reflected in chapters on Jorge Luis Borges and Italo Calvino and on Japanese short fiction Postcolonial and translation theory are combined with the close reading of specific texts Neglected authors such as the Welsh writer Dorothy Edwards and the colonial figure Frank Swettenham are re evaluated and we also consider genre writing with chapters on crime fiction and Ray Bradbury s Martian Chronicles Integrating theory and practice The Short Story will appeal both to writers and to students of literary criticism
